This gasoline tractor trailer which had been struck by a freight engine at Albany, N. Y., exploded in a burst of flame injuring seven firemen who were washing down the gasoline that spilled from truck. ## Judge's Selection Talked at Hearing

Joint Legislative Body Meets in New York on Problem

New York, May 25 (AP)—New methods of selecting judges in New York state were discussed yesterday at a public hearing held by the joint legislative committee to revise and reconstitute the state election law.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey requested last January that the Legislature consider possible changes in the state's selection of judges. Future discussion meetings will be held upstate.

Presiding at yesterday's meeting was Assemblyman John R. Brook, Manhattan Republican and committee chairman.

The discussion centered mainly on the plan advanced by the Citizens Committee on the Courts, of which ex-Judge Samuel Seabury is president, and on the "Missouri Plan."

The former provides for the appointment of judges by the governor with the consent of the Senate. After a trial period of at least one year, the voters of the judicial district concerned vote on whether the appointed judge should serve for a full term. The plan is optional in each judicial district.

The "Missouri Plan" provides for the selection of judges by the governor from among three names submitted by judicial commissions composed of judges, lawyers chosen by the bar, and laymen named by the governor.

After the judge chosen by the governor has served a year, his name is submitted to the voters who decide whether he should be retained.

Sees No Control
Kenneth Spence, chairman of the executive committee of the Citizens Committee on the Courts, said that under the present system of electing judges "the people have no control; candidates are selected by political bosses—there is a fact which everybody knows."

He added that judicial candidates are not now chosen on the basis of fitness but for "political availability" and for the sake of making a party's ticket acceptable to the voting public.

Among those attacking the proposed changes were less democratic than the present method of electing judges were Karl Propoy, former president of the Bronx County Bar Association; Samuel S. Tripp, vice president of the Queens County Bar Association; Jay Albert Mahoney, member of the board of directors of the War Veterans Bar Association, and Henry Hunter, member of the Newburgh City Bar Association.

George Hallett, secretary of the Citizens Union, said judicial candidates should be kept off party lines and appear on a separate part of the ballot.

More Indictments

Washington, May 25 (AP)—The Justice Department today announced three more income tax evasion indictments have been returned by a Kansas City federal grand jury investigating crime conditions in that city.

Test Borings Scheduled In Hudson River June 1

The Giles Drilling Corp., of 2 Park avenue, New York, which was recently awarded the contract to make test borings for the proposed bridge over the Hudson river in the Kingston area, today issued notice that it would start work on June 1.

An official of the New York State Bridge Authority said today that details of its contract with the drilling concern are being completed.

Announcement on the borings said workmen will be active from June 1 to July 15 in the river from Goldrick's Landing eastward and the scope used for the job will show a red light.

Scramble Is Seen Likely in View of One Term for Present Dewey Aide

Albany, N. Y., May 25 (AP)—Republican insiders today foresaw a wild scramble for the G.O.P. nomination for lieutenant governor if Thomas E. Dewey should decide definitely not to seek a third term as governor.

Usually the nomination for second place almost goes begging. But this year it is being eyed by ambitious Republicans looking to 1954.

The present lieutenant governor, Joe R. Hanley, is the reason. If Dewey sticks to his announced intention of not running again, virtually all political observers here agree that Hanley will get the gubernatorial nomination.

Hanley will be 74 next Tuesday. And if the Republican slate won next November, he would not be expected to serve more than one four-year term.

That would leave his lieutenant governor in a highly favorable position to capture the G.O.P. nomination for governor in 1954. Potential candidates for the number 2 spot at the Republican convention in Saratoga Springs Sept. 8-7 include Senate Majority Leader Arthur H. Wickes of Kingston; Oswald D. Heck of Schoharie; Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee; and Nathaniel L. Goldstein of New York city, state attorney general.

Informed sources report that Wickes, Heck and Goldstein would be delighted to become Hanley's running mate.

As for Mahoney, it is understood that at the moment he would be disinclined to take it. But friends say that if he were urged he might easily nod yes.

Geographically speaking, Goldstein holds an edge. For if Hanley an upstate, were nominated for governor, it would be logical to pick a New York city resident for lieutenant governor.

But one factor may cancel out such reasoning: The Republican choice for U. S. senator is almost certain to come from New York city. It could be argued, therefore, that it would do the party more good than harm to select his candidate for lieutenant governor from heavily Republican upstate.

Dewey has promised to talk over again with Republican state leaders the re-election question after his return from a vacation June 9.

Will Explain State Retirement Program

The Ulster County Civil Service Commission has made arrangements to have the New York State's new 55-year retirement plan explained to all the civil service employees in this area who are members of the State Retirement System.

Plans have been made through H. Elliot Kaplan, deputy state comptroller in charge of the New York State Employees Retirement System, to have J. Hungerford of the retirement system, address interested civil service employees June 13 at 3:30 p. m. A general question and answer period will follow the talk by Hungerford. State, county, city, village, school and other municipal employees who are members of the system are invited to attend the meeting.

In order to select a meeting place large enough to accommodate all interested employees, all municipal department heads are asked to advise the Ulster County Civil Service Commission, 32 Main street, Kingston, Thomas Bohan, executive secretary, telephone Kingston 4044, of the number of employees from his department who will attend the meeting.

Clay Speech Disrupted By Heckler

Young Man Assails General for Cutting Woman's Sentence for War Crimes

Speaker Is Ousted

Detectives Take Him From Town Hall, 100 Others Leave

New York, May 25 (AP)—Heckled and picketed, Gen. Lucius D. Clay cast aside a prepared speech at an anti-Communist "Fold Berlin" rally last night and issued a rallying call to the people of the German capital and a warning to the Russians.

To the people of Berlin, the former American military governor in Germany said: "You have within yourselves the moral strength to stop any attempted uprising among the youths of Germany which would destroy freedom. Be patient—the time of freedom is rising."

A lone heckler disrupted the rally and caused brief disorder after police had routed 1,000 chanting pickets outside Town Hall.

A loud murmur arose from the audience as a young man began heckling Clay because he had cut the prison sentence of the notorious Ise Koch of Buchenwald.

Many men and women jumped to their feet, some of them shouting.

The heckler continued shouting above the noise until two detectives escorted him out of the auditorium. About 100 persons followed. Some of those who left the auditorium with him left "Ise Koch" signs.

After Clay had answered the heckler in unsteady voice, the general told the audience: "I came here tonight with a prepared speech, but now I am not going to make that."

Says He Wasn't Dismayed
Referring to the noisy, sign-carrying pickets who had been dispersed outside the hall, Clay said:

"Having lived through the blockade of Berlin, I am not dismayed by a blockade in New York."

Just as Clay was about to begin his speech, the heckler questioned him on the issue of Mrs. Koch, wife of the commandant of the Nazi extermination camp at Buchenwald.

"How about Ise Koch and human skin?" The heckler demanded of Clay, who had cut the woman's penalty to four years after a military court had imposed a life term.

Court Indicts Ise Koch; Trial To Come in July

Munich, Germany, May 25 (AP)—A German court today indicted Ise Koch for crimes against German and Austrian concentration camp inmates. She will be brought to trial late in July.

Mrs. Koch, 42, infamous mistress of the Buchenwald concentration camp, was accused specifically of instigating the murder of 135 prisoners. She was charged also with mistreating the prisoners.

The move was a long step toward an obvious but undeclared goal of the President: To make the Commerce Department the government's policy control center for air, rail, sea and highway transportation.

Policy Officials Skeptical On Lie's Cold War Solution

Shandaken Mail Carrier Kills Self

Theron E. Townsend, 58, Has Two Wounds; Verdier Given

Theron E. Townsend, 58, mail carrier and former justice of the peace in the town of Shandaken, died Wednesday afternoon of gunshot wounds which Coroner Arthur C. Chipp said were self-inflicted.

A single-shot 22 caliber rifle was used, indicating that Townsend must have shot himself once through the left side of his chest, reloaded the rifle and fired a second shot into his forehead.

Townsend's body was discovered in a barn on his property opposite the Shandaken golf club grounds on Route 28 about 4:10 p. m. by his daughter, Mrs. Doris Buley, the sheriff's office reported. He had returned from his mail route about 3:55 p. m.

In addition to having a mail route, Townsend was town policeman. He had been justice of the peace for about 10 years and for about two years was a deputy sheriff of this county. He was secretary-treasurer of the Shandaken Cemetery Association for 20 years.

Discovery of the body was made when Townsend's daughter went to investigate the fact that the barn door was closed. The door was usually kept open, the sheriff's office learned.

Mrs. Buley notified a neighbor, Joseph Feilzinger, who summoned Dr. Charles A. Quinn of Phoenicia and notified the sheriff's office.

Dr. Quinn pronounced Townsend dead upon his arrival. Coroner Chipp investigated with sheriff's office men Clayton Vadenburg and Leonard Bohmer, after which the coroner gave a verdict of death by suicide.

Townsend reportedly had been depressed and "moody" for the past year, the sheriff's office learned.

U.N. Official Will Talk With President on His Recent Visit to Russia

Washington, May 25 (AP)—American foreign policy officials from President Truman down today evidenced a cautious and skeptical attitude toward Trygve Lie's belief that negotiations to end the cold war are possible.

Mr. Truman was asked at his news conference what he thought about the U.N. secretary-general's efforts to arrange negotiations among the United States, Britain, France, Russia and possibly other leading United Nations members.

The Chief Executive answered carefully that he knows nothing about Lie's efforts and will make no statement on them until he has talked with the secretary of state.

Lie returned to New York today from Europe where he conferred with Premier Stalin and with British and French government officials. He will come to Washington in a few days to see the President and Secretary of State Acheson.

Acheson meanwhile is returning to this country from London where he wound up last week a series of diplomatic conferences aimed at strengthening the western coalition against Soviet communism.

Sites No Optimism
Lie's expressed hopefulness has not stirred any sign of optimism at the State Department or in Congress.

The general reaction in Congress was expressed in the comment of Rep. Eaton (R-N.J.), top Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee. He said he hopes Lie is correct but "nothing has shown any reason to believe Russian promises."

State Department officials were deeply skeptical of Lie's estimate that successful negotiations with the Russians are possible.

Speaking privately, they said they see no reason to believe that the Soviets are any more ready now than they have been for several years to make the kind of adjustment in their policy which western authorities deem necessary to a peaceful situation in the world.

Action Ends Differences On Question

Arabs and Israelis Can Have Weapons, Only on Assurance Attacks Won't Follow

Security Is Point

Need Is Based on Their Defenses for Entire Area

Washington, May 25 (AP)—The United States, Britain and France have agreed to supply arms to the countries of the Middle East.

Under the agreement, announced today, arms and materials may be sent to the Arab nations and Israel—but only under assurances that "the buyer-state does not intend to undertake any act of aggression against another state."

The agreement was reached during the recent three-power meeting in London. It marks an end to long-standing differences among these nations over the question of furnishing weapons to military forces recently engaged in bitter fighting over the partition of Palestine.

Although there was no reference in the announcement of the strategic importance of the Middle East in the East-West cold war, officials here were of the opinion the big three foreign ministers had this strongly in mind.

Security Is Cited
Their joint statement said the three governments recognized that the Arab states and Israel "need to maintain a certain level of armed forces for the purpose of insulating them internally against the big three foreign ministers had this strongly in mind."

The announcement said that Middle Eastern countries are not to receive arms from the three powers already have given assurances the weapons would not be used for acts of aggression. Similar assurances will be requested of other states in the area before future arms shipments are authorized, it said.

Pledge Is Indicated
This would indicate that Egypt and Hashemite Jordan, two of the Arab countries which fought against Israel over Palestine partition have pledged themselves to peace. They have been receiving arms aid from Britain.

Should any nation receiving arms under the arrangement show signs of preparing to "violate borders or true lines," the statement said the three powers would "act at once" through the United Nations "to prevent such violation."

The arrangement was to be announced simultaneously in Washington, London and Paris.

World Halt Race
London, May 25 (AP)—A British foreign office spokesman said today the American-British-French agreement to arm the Middle East is equivalent to a "strategic and strengthening the economic positions of governments there."

Thousands Vote Favorite Union
Baltimore, May 25 (AP)—Thousands of employees in 57 General Electric plants voted today to decide which of two electrical unions was to represent them—the new C.I.O. group or the union the C.I.O. expelled last year.

The vote will determine representation for each plant. It may be that G.E. will be divided among the bitterly competitive unions, the C.I.O.'s new International Union of Electrical Workers or the United Electrical Workers.

On Communist Issue
TUE officials insist that the vote is on a Communist issue. The U.E. was expelled from the C.I.O. for alleged Communist domination. Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin last Sunday joined C.I.O. Chief Philip Murray in an anti-U.E. rally and both men said the union was Red-controlled.

U.E. denied the accusation, as it has denied the many similar charges before. "Phoney," said U.E. President Albert Fitzgerald of the Murray-Tobin assertions.

Fitzgerald's union has had a number of defeats in important industry elections so far but only one—at General Motors—proved a sweeping victory for the U.E., headed by C.I.O. Treasurer James B. Carey.

Ballooning is due to stop at 8:30 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time) and after that the various plants and voting groups will start wiring the results to Baltimore for tabulation.

Hyatt Succeeds Egan As B.P.W. Member
Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk announced today that John J. Egan, 10 Len Court, who had served on the Board of Public Works for more than 12 years, has resigned because of illness and he has appointed Kenneth F. Hyatt, 29 Janet street in his place.

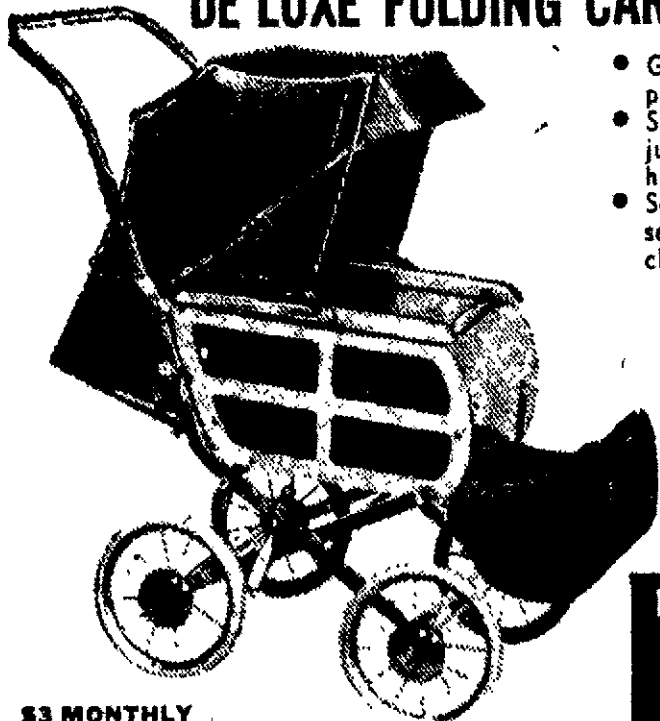

Hyatt, a former local paymaster, is employed by the C. M. Thomas Sons paint shop, 23 Crown street. He was appointed to the local police force about ten years ago and before that had worked several years as a printer at the Kingston Daily Leader. He has been working for C. M. Thomas Sons for more than a year.

The 16-year-old Commissioner Egan was reappointed by Mayor Newkirk last September. The former owner of the Kingston Hotel, Clinton avenue and Main street, he has been retired for several years.

POOLING WEST EUROPE'S POWER

The twelve Atlantic Pact countries stand at a crossroads. At their London conference the big question confronting each nation was: "How can we get an adequate defense without going bankrupt?"

Western European leaders are convinced that drastically lowered living standards for their peoples would be the inevitable outcome if each country goes on planning for its own balanced force of army, air force and naval units.

Some believe that even as allies they lack the economic strength needed for the sort of defensive effort their military men consider basic to security.

The European chiefs no longer see any point in discussing whether security or economic recovery should have priority. They think the two somehow must be achieved together. But how?

The plan now turning over in some leaders' minds is to create a giant pool of military and economic resources among all the pact countries. They think the defense job might be accomplished if each country were assigned just a part of it, with all the parts fitted into an overall pattern.

Thus France might be asked to supply land forces, the Low Countries some specialized combat units, Britain the tactical air arm, the United States the strategic air force and possibly the main naval strength. There might be a similar division of effort in the output of munitions and other equipment.

This is a revolutionary idea for Europe to study seriously. It involves a loss of individual national sovereignty, heretofore clung to so jealously by all. More than that, it would demand a remarkable display of mutual confidence among the pact nations.

Nevertheless, that's the line European officials have been thinking along. It's a measure of the gravity of their dilemma.

The full pooling of Atlantic power was not accomplished at London. But a start was made in the setting up of a permanent committee to coordinate military and economic matters among the pact countries. Europeans know the situation is urgent. They can't lean indefinitely on the United States as their sole support in this predicament.

When falling down the cellar stairs why not take along those odds and ends which long have been waiting to go to the basement?

WATER: MUCH OR LITTLE?

It is hard to judge whether floods are becoming worse in themselves or only seem worse because city development along the rivers becomes greater as time goes by and therefore floods cause greater damage. Many rivers are protected with dikes which hold small floods within the banks, so that only the higher crests break out into settled areas to attract notice. Nevertheless there are signs suggestive of a greater load of water in the rivers in flood periods. In the disastrous flood which engulfed Winnipeg the Red River in Canada is said to have been higher than at any time in a hundred years. In 1947 the Mississippi River reached a flood crest unequalled in 104 previous years of record keeping.

If there is more water at times in the rivers than there used to be, there is less water under the surface of the ground. In almost all parts of the nation the water table, the level of underground water, has been falling in recent years. In some small areas man-made conditions can be directly blamed, as where deep mines or oil wells have been abandoned and allowed to fill with water. But in general the cause is largely to be found on the surface of the earth, where destruction of forests and brush areas, drainage of swamps, and substitution of modern drainage systems for the slower methods of nature have hurried rain water into the rivers, rather than allowing it to remain on the land long enough to soak downward into the underground reserves.

Floods in the rivers and dry wells in the hill have a definite relation. Both need remedy, and the remedy for both is to be found in holding the water where it falls, in

THE SAME OLD CROWD

Back in 1946, Senator Burton K. Wheeler ran for re-election to the United States Senate from the state of Montana. Nobody doubted that he would be re-elected. Senator Wheeler had had an outstanding career. He had served in the Senate 24 years. He was known as a Liberal; had even been close to Franklin D. Roosevelt, who had wanted him to run with him in vice-presidential.

It soon developed that it was not going to be so easy for Senator Wheeler. Something nasty had come into the state of Montana. A filthy biography about Senator Wheeler came upon the scene—something so disgusting that it was unbelievable. He was smeared all over the state. Vast sums of money were hurled at him.

Senator Wheeler's crime was that his opposition on World War II was not the one that a New York group of internationalists favored. The fact that, in 1950, it is possible to say that the preponderance of evidence shows that much that Senator Wheeler had said about what the war would do to the United States and to the world has turned out to be correct, of course, did not matter in that campaign. Wheeler was defeated.

Now along comes the "Committee of National Affairs," the chairman of which is Frederick C. McKee. Richard J. Cronan is vice-chairman; Westmore Wilcox, Jr., treasurer; Arthur J. Goldsmith, secretary.

The committee has issued a circular which states:

"In 1946 we played a major part in defeating Senator Wheeler of Montana, leader of the extreme isolationist bloc, and in 1948 we were mainly instrumental in defeating Senator Revercomb of West Virginia, leader of the extreme reactionary group."

None of these gentlemen is a citizen of Montana, so far as I can learn. They are not citizens of West Virginia, which Senator Revercomb represented. They had a committee which consisted principally of New Yorkers. They raise money to influence elections outside of New York state.

In this same circular, they indicate that they plan to invade Nevada to effect the defeat of Senator Pat McCarran. It says:

"In Nevada Senator McCarran is seeking re-election. He was primarily responsible for obstructing equitable legislation for the admission of Displaced Persons."

I also want to quote the end of the circular: "Alone, you can do little; with others of like views, you can do much. Through the Committee on National Affairs you can help effectively to determine the character of the next Senate."

We need your support so that we can help elect the kind of senator that you want—please send us a contribution today."

Of course, these people can do as they please, but their operation is antagonistic to every theory of American government.

The United States Senate consists of two representatives from each state. The senators used to be elected by the legislatures of each state. By the adoption of the 17th Amendment to the Constitution in 1913, senators are to be elected directly by the people of each state.

Senators are not elected nationally but in each state. Citizens of New York obviously cannot vote in Montana or West Virginia or Nevada. It is not intended that they should have any influence in those states. It is intended that the people of each state should be completely unhampered in their own choice.

However, if huge sums of money, directly or indirectly, are poured into states from New York to influence every election, it could come to pass that unless a candidate satisfied this committee or some other committee in New York, all members of the Senate would be representatives, not of their states, but of New York or any other pressure group.

Of course, this is an extreme statement of the case, for none of these committees are as important as they were during the war and immediately after. The public is growing a bit weary of all this meddling in other people's business and contributions are not as plentiful as they used to be.

Nevertheless, the theory ought to be restated that each state in the United States is, by the Constitution, sovereign and that the people of each state have the right to select their own representatives without the control of the Committee on National Affairs of New York City.

CLEANSING TEETH

As I am a great believer in the energy-giving effects of sugar, know how I liked candy myself as a youngster, and remember the hours of play made possible after school by eating a slice of bread and butter covered with brown or white sugar, I feel sorry that our highest research workers in dentistry show definitely that sugar is the greatest single cause of tooth decay.

The sugar left on the surfaces of teeth works fast in causing decay but if the teeth are brushed or mouth rinsed out immediately after eating sugar, decay can be prevented. This is on the authority of Dr. Maury Massier, Professor of Pedodontics (care of children's teeth), College of Dentistry, University of Illinois.

In "The Journal of the American Dental Association," Dr. Leonard S. Fosdick, Northwestern University chemist, states that teeth decay can be reduced 50 to 60 per cent by the relatively simple process of brushing or rinsing the teeth immediately after eating.

Dr. Fosdick's report on the benefit of immediate brushing of the teeth after eating is based on a two-year research study conducted by a group of dental investigators among 946 men and women students at Silliman College, University of Illinois and Drake, Emory (Georgia) and Northwestern (Illinois) Universities. During the last period, an experimental group of 523 students brushed their teeth with a neutral tooth paste 10 minutes after eating, or if that was impossible, rinsed their mouths thoroughly with water. The other 423 students served as a control group and merely continued their usual mouth hygiene habits, most of them brushing their teeth upon arising and before retiring.

X-ray examinations at the end of the first year revealed that the experimental group had developed an average of only .8 new cavities compared with 2.2 new cavities for the control group, a reduction of 63 per cent. At the end of the second year, X-ray examination revealed that the experimental group had 69 per cent fewer new cavities than the control group.

Instead of trying to prevent children from eating sugar and candy, why not perhaps be better for parents to see that their children rinsed out their mouths after eating sugar and candy.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — Top-drawer Democrats were not happy when they got to Chicago and discovered the manner in which a quarter of a million dollars had been raised to welcome President Truman to Chicago.

First, a ruling was obtained from the Internal Revenue Bureau that donations of the host committee were a charity gift and tax deductible. Chicago, it was argued, was playing host to the President regardless of politics.

Having secured this, local Democrats mailed a copy of the Internal Revenue ruling to prospective donors with an appeal for funds. And in the same letter, believe it or not, they inserted the schedule of Democratic political activities.

When George Killian, ex-treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, arrived in Chicago, he showed the nonpolitical appeal for tax-deductible funds, with the Democratic events schedule to Chairman Bill Boyle.

"That fool Nate Liehtblau," growled Killian. "It's the first I knew about it, he mailed the worried letter."

Later, he reported the whole matter to President Truman. Note—The Chicago Daily News and ex-Congressman Everett Dirksen, G.O.P. candidate for the Senate, made the most of Democratic red faces and of the huge sum of money contributed by the liquor interests to the Truman reception.

Rough-and-Tumble Veep
You can't beat Alben Barkley when it comes to rough-and-tumble debate or after-dinner speeches.

The other day in Chicago, Barkley pulled a near-miracle. The occasion was the big Democratic rally honoring Thomas Jefferson just before President Truman arrived from the west. The dinner was poorly handled. The toastmaster forgot to introduce Postmaster General Donaldson and Secretary of the Navy Matthews.

Jack Arvey staged a show of dancing girls from Chez Paris, while in contrast motherly Congresswoman Mary Norton of New Jersey dropped out a 30-minute speech.

By this time it was nearly midnight, the honor-guest table was almost empty, and the audience was ready to go home. But Barkley was still to be heard from.

Most speakers would have been discouraged to start. But the vice president got to the point of what other speakers had ignored—the real story of Thomas Jefferson. He described the details of his life, his influence on the nation, and did it in such a way that the tired and milling audience actually listened.

Absent Congressman
This column, leaning backward to Congressman Thurmond Chatham of North Carolina, recently explained his prolonged absence from Congress by the fact that his wife had passed away 10 months ago and he had not been able to concentrate on his work.

That explanation may have been overly generous. Since then, it has been learned that Congressman Chatham's absence has been partly due to house parties at his Currituck Sound cottage.

Two weeks ago, furthermore, he brought Mrs. John T. Barnes, Jr., wife of a Reynolds Tobacco official, to the Baptist Hospital at Winston-Salem at 2:30 a. m., May 8, with a severe gash at the base of her skull. Mrs. Barnes, 35 years old and a prominent socialite, was suffering from loss of blood. Mr. Barnes arrived at the hospital at 5 a. m.

Hospital authorities, nurses and internes flatly refused to discuss the incident, but Congressman Chatham, when queried, said that Mrs. Barnes had been dining, with others, on his terrace, had caught her dress in a chair and fallen, hitting her head against a marble wall.

We are delighted to accept the congressman's story, but it should also be noted that his prolonged absences from Congress apparently are not entirely due to the loss of his wife.

Merry-Go-Round

Secretary of State Acheson is so tired following his London conferences that he cabled the State Department that he is not to be disturbed on the voyage home—no matter how many speeches Senator McCarthy makes about him.

Francis Pickens Miller, the Byrd machine's sworn foe in Virginia, chased a real hot potato at Sen. Harry Byrd. He proposed a Virginia state "committee on reduction of nonessential expenses."

Senator Byrd uses his chairmanship of a similar committee in Congress to fire shots at the administration, but no such probe of padded payrolls in Byrd-controlled Virginia has even been dared before. . . . Another hot fight between right and left wings of the G.O.P. is on in North Dakota. Frank Gutz, a campaign manager for "oil boy" La Follette's presidential campaign in 1924, is running for governor.

Professor Harold Urey, famed atomic scientist from the University of Chicago, is slated to be director of the new science foundation. . . . Landlords have been getting such bad publicity over high rents that the Norfolk, Va., Real Estate Board appointed a 22-man committee to keep rents down. Instead of cutting rents, however, nine of the committee members, themselves, boosted rents from 27 to 100 per cent.

The nine men who were supposed to hold rents down but increased their own rents are: Ludwell Baldwin, Walter Bott, Clifton Cunniff, Ralph Drewery, M. Etheridge, Robert Koolage, William Kutz, Lawrence Page and C. V. W. Trice.

"Driver of the Year"

Lloyd Reiser, 37-year-old truck driver of Indianapolis, was as cool and collected as you would expect the "Driver of the Year" to be when he was congratulated by President Truman for his highway safety feats.

Truman himself seemed to get a bigger thrill than the truck driver as Reiser told of saving a little girl's life on a highway near Louisville, Ky.

"Our highways are becoming safer every year," remarked Truman, "and we have men like you to thank for it."

Before departing, Reiser got a prized presidential autograph for a nine-year-old Indianapolis neighbor, John Truman Harmon—no relation to the President.

"You're making a lifelong Democrat out of this boy," grinned Reiser as Truman inscribed a personal card for the youngster.

"With a second name like that, he ought to be," quipped the President.

Question: Why Were Workers at Chrysler Deprived of Pay More Than 100 Days?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 25 — Do strikes really pay off either to the workers or to the companies? This issue has always been pertinent, but it is even more so now that the General Motors settlement with the United Automobile Workers union has been announced, for it raises a question of why 89,000 Chrysler workers were deprived of pay by a bitter strike for more than 100 days.

The record shows that Chrysler workers actually averaged one cent per hour better pay than General Motors workers in the last year or more and that the pension plan which was finally granted by General Motors could, so far as the main features are concerned, have been obtained without a strike at the Chrysler plants, since they were embodied in one of the early offers by that company.

The record also shows that no real test has ever occurred on the matter of acceptance by a union of any substantial wage cut under the sliding scale formula which adjusts wages to the index of the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. While in two instances, the unions were obliged to take a cut on the cost-of-living basis and local strikes were threatened, the amounts involved were almost immediately compensated for by General Motors.

Instead of making a separate wage increase previously stipulated in the contract as "an annual improvement" factor, in a third instance, the company waived the cut and heeded a protest that there was something wrong with the government's index.

This implies that similar protests may be made in the future. As a matter of fact, Secretary of Labor Tobin has just announced that he is "revising and improving" the bureau's index and putting it on a "modernized postwar basis" — whatever that means to future negotiations.

Many companies, like Chrysler, preferred a strike to a wage cut, a couple years ago to the cost-of-living sliding scale. As it turns out, the current rate at General Motors from May 29, 1948, to March 1, 1950, involved an increase ranging during that interval from 11 cents to 14 cents an hour, whereas Chrysler's plan was a flat 13-cent increase in 1948, turned out actually to be on an average 10-cent annual basis.

On the question of whether the new General Motors contract is subject to reopening even though its provisions explicitly provide that it cannot be opened for five years, the experience of the Chrysler Corporation with the U. A. W. shows that when work stoppages are threatened pressure is exerted and no matter what the contract provides there are reopened negotiations. Thus, the Chrysler Company had a letter in writing stating that Chrysler was not to be part of any reopening on wages in the contract due to expire in 1950 but this was of no avail.

It is interesting to note that had the U. A. W. leaders waited on the pension issue for the Chrysler contract to expire in August 1949, the employees of that company would now be getting the benefits of the General Motors contract so far as pensions are concerned, and the probabilities are that there would have been a wage increase besides, thus improving upon the flat 13-cent-an-hour raise granted nearly two years ago.

This indicates that the leadership of the U. A. W. may have sacrificed the interests of the Chrysler employees by forcing an unnecessary strike. Now, with plenty of latitude, the General Motors settlement is hailed as a great achievement. It is an achievement so far as that company is concerned, but it tends nevertheless to obscure the fact that the Chrysler strike inflicted unnecessary loss on 89,000 employees of Chrysler and on dealers and merchants indirectly affected by the work stoppage.

Some day the facts on the Chrysler strike will be reviewed by a faction in the U. A. W. engaged in reviewing the work of their present leaders and it will not be surprising to find that a strike leader was made. A strike was forced by the union at Chrysler that achieved nothing which could not have been obtained by easy bargaining after the General Motors settlement had been effected.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I have a letter from a typical copperhead, in the late Roosevelt's meaning of the term, who reveals a determination quite un-American, according to the same lexicon, not to pay her just share of President Truman's $50,000 tax-free increase in pay disclosed as an expense account, not her fair portion of the cost of his recent non-political visit to the far-flung haunts of the Feeble-Minded and the Treasury Department of Justice will send her to prison that the majesty of law and justice shall be not mocked.

"My husband was employed by the New York Telephone Company for about 30 years, giving all of himself in faithful service until ten days before his death on Dec. 13, 1948," this character states. "He was on vacation, in hospital for a while, and when he died, he could breathe when he died. When he started work he was informed of the plan for employees. Under this plan he served, foregoing opportunity to work elsewhere, where he might have received bonuses and so forth. He felt a sense of security in the fact of his becoming disabled. He felt that in the case of his death his wife and child would be given a death benefit from the company."

About three and one-half years before his death, he developed cancer. He was operated on and one lung was removed. He back remained open for almost two years. He had four subsequent operations before the stitches would hold together and the flesh heal. Meantime, he had been back to business because he loved his company and his work."

The reader will note the reactionary, capitalistic spirit of attitude and the surviving spouse.

"During this time he was shown the highest consideration by the company. However, our expenses were tremendous for doctors, medicines, dressings and oxygen which had to be in our home at all times. This consumed all our savings."

"Upon my husband's death, the company paid me a $200 salary in monthly installments, according to the death benefit plan. This was always considered in the form of insurance. I would not have been given it if he were not dead. It was not earned income. Being dead, my husband could not have earned it. I did not earn it. I took this death benefit to cover the period of one year rather than a longer period, to pay the funeral expenses, buy a tombstone, to which my husband was entitled, and pay bills accumulated as a result of his long illness. I felt that I could then find a position and save for sickness and other emergencies which my husband carried."

"In a ruling, dated May 10, 1949, the commissioner of internal revenue held that sickness-death benefit paid under this plan was taxable income. I believe this ruling, also making it retroactive to 1947. On Jan. 23, 1950, I received a letter dated Dec. 15, 1949, forwarding the commissioner's ruling, a year after my husband's death. The payments had ceased and the money had been spent. I informed him that I would owe income tax on the death benefit."

"Since my husband's death, my nerves have been in a serious condition, presumably an aftermath of the strain of his long illness and my deep love for him. I also need an operation. This has prevented my seeking a position although I have an 85 year old mother, my entire care and support. Each month I cost $1.

Story Causes False Alarm
Amesbury, Mass., May 25 (AP)—The fish story Alexander Waskiewicz told his two young sons caused a false alarm of fire. Was-iewicz returned empty handed from a fishing trip yesterday. He told the disappointed three-and-four-year-old boys he left his fish in a red box up the street. They shuffled off to find the box. When they came to a red one on a pole, one youngster boosted the other who pulled the knob. It was a fire alarm box. Five Chief George A. ## Pork Prices Show Irregularity; Beef, Veal, Lamb Hold

(By The Associated Press)
Retail pork prices turned irregular this week after advancing fairly steadily for more than a month.

Declines of as much as four cents a pound on the more popular cuts were reported in several large marketing areas, but the markdowns were not general enough to establish a trend. In many stores the same items were slightly higher.

Beef, veal and lamb were held generally unchanged from last week-end. Variations in the prices of eggs and dairy products were minor.

Frying and broiling chickens were two to four cents a pound lower in some places. A spokesman for a major food chain in New York said further declines were likely—possibly by this week-end—because of anticipated heavy shipments of young chickens from the nation's principal production areas.

Food shoppers stocking up for what is normally the first big outdoor picnic week-end of the summer will find many picnic foods priced as specials for the occasion. Day holiday. Some stores, for example, planned to trim picnic ham prices by as much as six cents a pound to attract customers.

Vegetables Reach Market
Spring vegetables delayed this year by unfavorable weather were beginning to reach market from nearby truck gardens in heavier volume this week. Larger volumes of radishes, rhubarb, scallions and spinach pushed prices lower. Also marked down from last week-end in most places were lettuce, new onions, peppers, peas, asparagus, beets, cabbage and cucumbers.

Snap beans, broccoli and celery were a little higher. All were offered in a wide range of quality. Florida and Louisiana were about through sending strawberries to distant markets, but shipments were picking up from Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri, California and Maryland.

California was reported to have shipped the first sizable load of new plums and honeyball melons of the season to eastern stores this week.

Commissioner Ewan Clague of the Federal Bureau of Labor Statistics said this week that high food prices probably will continue into autumn. He told a New York conference of State Labor Department officials that unfavorable weather conditions earlier this year both in this country and abroad will tend to keep food higher than was anticipated earlier.

The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index this week climbed only one cent from a week ago, but that advance put the index at the highest level since January 25, 1949. The index, representing the total wholesale cost of a pound each of 31 general use foods, was at $5.90 this week, compared with $5.74 a year ago and the record high of $7.36 on July 13, 1948.

The Agriculture Department headlined these foods on its "most plentiful" list for the nation as a whole in June: Potatoes, canned corn, canned lima beans, eggs, broilers, fryers, hens, dairy products and honey.

Many Vets Eligible For Dental Work

Many World War 2 veterans are paying for dental treatments which may be due to their service and therefore the responsibility of the government, according to Howard Shuster, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency.

In order to qualify for dental out-patient treatment under the Veterans Administration, the veterans must need treatment for a service connected dental condition. He then makes application to the Veterans Administration for authorization for such treatment. When authorization is granted he may receive the required treatment at a Veterans Administration field station or by an approved private dentist in his home community.

A veteran to be eligible for such treatment must have a discharge from the service which is other than dishonorable.

Any veteran who has a dental condition which he believes service connected is urged to call at the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency 32 Main street, Kingston or any of the branch offices in Ellenville, Saugerties, Highland or Keokuk. At any of these offices he will be advised of his eligibility and all applicants will be handled.

Reserves Hear About Arctic and Weapons

At the recent meeting of the Volunteer Air Reserve Squadron, 9267, members heard discussions on "Medical Problems in the Arctic," and new developments in weapons and technique.

Dr. Anthony Tocco, a lieutenant in the reserves, told the assemblage in the American Legion building that insects in summer and cold in winter menace man's comfort and safety in the Arctic region.

Weapons and techniques were discussed by First Lt. Joseph Benjamin.

Refresher courses of two weeks duration were announced in the following subjects:

Aircraft maintenance, aerial photography, aircraft armament, budget and fiscal classification and assignment, intelligence officer, statistical control officer and supply officer.

Further information may be obtained from Tech Sgt. Frank Weighall at his office in the central post office. Those interested are urged to contact him immediately.

The next meeting with an interesting program is scheduled for Tuesday June 13.

Will License Cats

Sacramento, Calif., May 24 (AP)—Cat owners of Sacramento have something to howl about. City Manager Bartley Cavanaugh proposed that cats be licensed just like dogs. He told the City Council that would be one way of financing the $13,692 item in next year's city budget for support of the pound. The council put off a vote.

Good Samaritan's Deed Has Other Aspects

If facts behind a Brooklyn man's report of a car theft are correct, a man he figured as the equivalent of a good Samaritan, went astray.

Local Police Sgt. Lemuel Howard received a call from Clarence Howard of Brooklyn, who said he had reported his car stolen at Carnarsie.

The man who took it, he said, was "believed to be a friend," and was sent to Beth El Hospital to bring Howard home, but he failed to arrive. Howard said the "friend" told him he lived in Kingston, and that was why he gave special notice of the alleged theft here.

Court Indicts

was released by U. S. authorities after serving a four-year term on war crimes charges. She had been sentenced originally to life, but Gen. Lucius D. Clay, as U. S. military governor, ordered the sentence reduced to four years. He said examination of trial record and reports from lawyers showed the charges were based on "hearsay and not on actual evidence."

The reduction in sentence provoked protests in the United States and became a subject for U. S. Senate inquiry. German authorities announced they would try her and she was put in jail at Aichach in Bavaria immediately after her release by the Americans.

Hans Ilkow, the Bavarian prosecutor, said he will call 200 witnesses at the forthcoming trial including three from the United States. He would not give the names of the American witnesses. Ilkow and Dr. Ernst Jagomast, who will assist in the prosecution, went to the United States last year to collect evidence against Mrs. Koch. They interviewed former Buchenwald prisoners.

On their return they said they had found "overwhelming" evidence that Mrs. Koch had ordered prisoners killed in order to make luminous shades of their tattooed skin. She is the widow of the former Buchenwald commandant. She became pregnant in jail while she was a prisoner of the Americans. The baby was turned over to a welfare agency.

Elsworth Signs Granting Order for Sale of Property

An order has been signed by Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth granting the Italian Health and Recreation Center, A.C.W.A., Inc., leave to sell real property at Mt. Menaghia, town of Wavering, to Georgia S. Prosperi for the sum of $50,000.

The petition states that the petitioner has an offer of purchase from Georgia S. Prosperi for a total price of $75,000 for the property which includes a considerable amount of land and buildings formerly used for recreational and vacation facilities and medical and convalescent care to members of New York locals affiliated with the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America and their families.

Application Made

Application was made to the court for leave to dispose of the property by Anthony Ploise, president and director, of 165 Sweetfield Circle, Yonkers, Anthony Ulla, treasurer and director, of 134 DeVoe Avenue, Yonkers, and Benny Addeo, secretary and director, of 72 Conelyne Street, Brooklyn, on behalf of the membership corporation, Samuel Sitrin, attorney for the petitioners.

The Mt. Menaghia property was purchased in 1937 by the corporation and was operated through 1941 as a summer recreational center and health center for Italian employees in the garment trade. During the war when transportation was not available the premises were closed. It was reopened in 1946 and operated through 1948. Since then it has not been used as a recreation center.

Few Would Be Able

In petitioning the court for permission to sell the petitioners state that the recession in the men's clothing industry has been such that few would be able to avail themselves of the facilities and it is impossible to contribute further funds, making it necessary to close down the resort. The petition further states that the need has been lessened because of the National Health, Accident and Retirement Plan adopted by the Amalgamated and also because of the opening soon of the Sidney Hillman Medical Health Center to such employees in the trade may be required to contribute a nominal sum.

Closing of the premises for any considerable period of time would mean a large sum would have to be expended to re-open the place and for making necessary repairs and since the premises probably would not be used for a long time, the petitioners asked leave to dispose of the property.

The order of Justice Elsworth granting leave to sell the property was signed Wednesday.

Clay Speech . . .

posed a life sentence for her part in Buchenwald atrocities.

Mrs. Koch was accused of making lampshades from the skin of prisoners. German authorities now are holding her in an asylum for mental examination prior to turning her over to a German court on war crimes charges.

Speaks to Heckler

Clay told the heckler: "I am never unwilling to give anybody his viewpoint on any question, but I also believe that any far-minded American is willing to listen."

The unidentified heckler, who told speakers "You just a plain G.I.," was not arrested. "This is a Nazi meeting," he charged.

The rally was sponsored by Common Cause, Inc., an anti-Communist organization. The speakers, who chanted phrases often used by the Reds, represented the American Jewish Labor Council and other groups.

The text of Clay's speech, which he ignored denouncing the recent Soviet blockade of Berlin as "the most ruthless attempt in modern history to use starvation as a means of political coercion." In his brief, impromptu remarks after the disorder, he urged Berliners to repel the projected Communist youth demonstration this week-end with "moral courage."

Clay warned "Russians and Communists everywhere" against mistaking American patience for indifference.

Middle East . . .

Britain already supplies arms to Egypt, Iraq, Jordan and Saudi Arabia, under treaties with those countries. The spokesman said all four had furnished assurances under terms of the new three-power agreement that they would request arms only for internal security.

Stamford, Conn., May 25 (AP)—Raymond A. Gandy, Jr., 24, son of a prominent Stamford physician, was fatally injured early today when the automobile he was driving crashed into a retaining wall and dropped 20 feet to the rocky beach below. He was dead upon reaching Stamford Hospital where Medical Examiner Dr. Ralph Crane said death was caused by crushing injuries to the chest and abdomen. Gandy was the son of Dr. and Mrs. R. Alfred Gandy of 24 Stamford Avenue. He graduated from the University of Virginia last year and had been prominent in tennis and yachting activities at the Stamford Yacht Club. He leaves besides his parents, two brothers, Kent and Harvey Gandy and a sister, Helen Jane Gandy, all of Stamford.

Republican Women Launch Drive for 'Hundred Thousand'

"The 'Hundred Thousand' is sure that for once, we women have understood the case, for it looks as though we will far exceed our goal of 100,000 members."

The new group, warmly welcomed by Republican leadership, had its inception at an informal lunch in New York earlier this year, at which Mrs. Kitchell was director of Ulster County. Conversation followed the usual pattern—concern about the future. "If we could only do something," one woman muttered. "All we do is gripe and worry."

Realizing that there must be thousands of women who felt as they did—women who had never taken an active part in any political organization, but who were Republicans most of the time, they took their problem to Miss Jane Todd and Mrs. Charles W. Weiss, Jr., National Committeewoman, and "The Hundred Thousand" crusade was born.

"The primary purpose of 'The Hundred Thousand'," says Mrs. Kitchell, "is to harness the energy of the countless women in the state who do not belong to political organizations; to rally their active support for state and congressional campaigns to give them a chance to say 'what they think ought to be done'."

The one dollar contribution will be used to provide a fund for the Women's Division of the Republican Party for educational programs.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAVISON

New York, May 23 (AP)—General Motors is making a billion-dollar bet that the next five years will be fat ones. It will probably ask you, its customer, to put up a sizable part of the money.

One billion dollars is what the big auto concern will pay out extra to workers in the next five years, under the conditions of the contract announced yesterday. But there are certain "ifs" attached to that billion will be paid out by you, the customer. That is, it will be included in the cost of the cars you buy—whether that means a hike in car prices, or just a cancellation of price cuts that otherwise might have come along.

But, if the next five years don't turn out to be as prosperous for auto producers as GM is betting, GM likely will curtail production, and its five-year wage bill won't be boosted by all of that $1 billion by any means.

And, if the wage-pension pattern GM is setting proves hard for some of the little fellows who supply it with parts there might be strikes there and these could tie up production at the assembly line.

No Absolute Guarantee
So that the five-year contract is no absolute guarantee of five years of labor-management peace in GM's overall operations, as some quarters are prone to hail it.

However, it is probably a well-calculated bet on GM's part. The auto giant apparently is counting on national income staying high million profit. Its first quarter's earnings this year were at a much higher rate than that—$212.3 million. Its second quarter is expected to top its first.

And Wall Street was guessing that the year as a whole barring a sudden ending to the auto boom, would find GM nearing the $1 billion profit mark. The additional labor costs, provided in the five-year peace pact, may keep the auto company from that strategic height, but earnings are still likely to beat last year's record comfortably. As for you, the car driver—if GM's betting on continued inflation is correct—the chances of companies raised their prices and hunted for more hikes to come just that much farther off now.

And you might remember that at the same time the GM contract was announced the fire out of the Sunday aviator million profit. Its first quarter's earnings this year were at a much higher rate than that—$212.3 million. Its second quarter is expected to top its first.

Might Be Factor

With the union playing footsie with GM, and apparently still in control of Chrysler, the GM position of being relatively strike-free may be a strong competitive factor. However, Chrysler has just reported its greatest productive week in history, as it recovers from the long strike.

There will be just that many more cars on the market to compete with GM and Ford the summer-buying weeks ahead.

The billion-dollar cost doubtless will make only a small nick in GM's earnings, as long as the present auto-buying spree continues—and GM officials are loud in their optimistic estimates of the boom running along for many months to come.

But GM's chances this year of becoming the first American corporation to make $1 billion annual profit probably have gone glimmering. The auto giant set a corporate record last year with $656.4

CINNAMON BUNS PERK UP MENU

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Just because something a little different makes the menu seem a lot more interesting, take a look at these two new menus:

Quick-Do Cinnamon Buns
Three cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons baking soda, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 1/3 cup sugar, 1/3 cup shortening, 1 cake compressed yeast or 1 package dry granular yeast, 1/4 cup lukewarm water, 6 tablespoons vinegar plus enough milk to make 3/4 cup liquid.

Sift some flour onto a piece of waxed paper. Measure 3 cups. Sift with baking soda, salt and sugar into large mixing bowl. Cut in shortening with pastry blender or two knives until mixture resembles coarse corn meal. Soften yeast in lukewarm water according to directions on package. Let stand at least 10 minutes.

Combine vinegar and milk and heat to lukewarm. Add to yeast. Gradually add liquid to dry mixture, stirring only until flour is blended and dough pulls away from sides of bowl. Dough should be as soft as can be handled. Turn onto lightly floured board and knead gently for 1 minute. Roll dough into rectangle 1/4-inch thick. Spread with butter, brown sugar and cinnamon. Roll up from long side. Cut in 1/2-inch slices. Place cut side down in greased 8-inch layer pan. Let rise for about one hour, or until doubled in bulk, in a warm place (90 degrees to 95 degrees F.). Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) about 15 minutes. Ice while warm with plain icing.

Plain Icing
Mix together and beat until smooth, 1/2 cup sifted confectioners' sugar, 2 teaspoons milk and 1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract.

Savory Tomato Aspic (10-12 servings)
Four cups tomato juice, 2 bay leaves, 2 teaspoons celery salt, few grains cayenne, 2 tablespoons grated onion, 1 1/4 cups beer, 2 envelopes (2 tablespoons) unflavored gelatin, 2 tablespoons lime juice, potato salad, salad greens.

Combine tomato juice, bay leaves, celery salt, cayenne and onion in saucepan; simmer 15 minutes. Remove bay leaves. Add 1 cup beer. Sprinkle gelatin on 1/4 cup beer; let stand 5 minutes; dissolve in hot tomato juice mixture. Add lime juice. Chill until syrupy. Arrange alternate layers tomato aspic and potato salad in a large mold which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Berries, ready-to-eat cereal, cinnamon buns, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Scrambled eggs and cottage cheese, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, lettuce salad, berry tart, tea, milk.

DINNER: Casserole of pork chops and sauerkraut, rye bread, butter or fortified margarine, savory tomato aspic, rhubarb pie, coffee, milk.

Budenz Says Woman Received Information

New York, May 24 (AP)—Former communist Louis Budenz says in a new book that a woman

Communist succeeded in entering the White House and bringing back information valuable to Stalin for the Yalta Conference. Budenz identifies her as "a professor in a Pennsylvania college" who "served as a courier and information gatherer in Washington" to the Communists. "She was instrumental," Budenz writes, "in getting various governmental moves made which enhanced the political position of the Communists."

No further information about the woman is given in the book, "Men Without Faces" (Harcourt). The author, former managing editor of the Daily Worker who broke with the Communist party in 1945 and returned to the Rus-man Catholic faith now is on the faculty of Fordham University. The Eskimo can turn completely over in his kayak passing beneath the boat, and fighting himself again.

Feature Stories Get Action
Chicago (AP)—Late last summer the Chicago Daily News ran a series of stories about the down-and-outers who hang out in a district known as Skid Row. Not long ago one of them came to the News office. He identified himself and said: "That story got me thinking. Now I'm back on my feet. I'm working steady in a factory and I haven't had a drink for six months." He pulled two ten dollar bills from his wallet. The News with the money to Port of Baltimore a treatment center for alcoholism. Today's phone call was called the speaking telephone.

Car Comes Off Second
Best in Encounter

This was one time when a car apparently got the worst of an encounter with a bicycle. John Nicholas, 56 Hudson street reported to the police at 9:26 p. m. yesterday that in his attempt to back into a space on Franklin street he went over part of a bicycle. The right rear tire of the car blew out and as Nicholas was checking on the damage the bicyclist came for the bicycle and went away without giving his name.

Medical Applicants
Exceed Vacancies

Albany, N. Y., May 25 (AP)—Applications for admission to the state university's two medical colleges are exceeding by 20 to 1 the possible enrollment.

A state university source made the estimate yesterday. He said the freshman class at the State University College of Medicine at New York city was increased last fall from the normal 110 to 150. It will be 150 again next fall, he estimated.

The college, formerly Long Island College of Medicine, has an enrollment of about 450.

The Syracuse University College of Medicine, which the state university soon will take over formally, had a freshman class of 75 last fall, instead of the normal 55. The source said it would be about 75 next fall. The total college enrollment is about 275.

Expansion facilities at both colleges is "in the works" the source said.

The question of enrollments is being studied by the State Board of Regents and deans of public and private medical schools.

The total enrollment at the nine medical schools in New York state in March was 3,279, the education department said. It was 3,175 in March, 1949, and 2,943 in October, 1941.

Regarding the enrollment study, Regents Chancellor William J. Wallin said "special consideration" was being given to what he called the problem of "wider opportunity of admission to professional schools, irrespective of the race, creed, color or national origin of the applicant."

He said the discussions were designed to "make certain that there is no discrimination."

Fog Upsets Flights

New York, May 25 (AP)—Fog upset domestic and overseas plane flights today but shipping in the harbor was unaffected. LaGuardia Field said 90 domestic flights were canceled from 6 a. m. to 10 a. m. while a number was diverted to Newark Airport. The airport weather bureau expected the fog to lift later in the day.

Channel Master Promotes Two County Men

SYLVESTER D. HERLIHY

HAROLD P. STANGEL

DANIEL S. ROHRER

Two Ulster county men—Sylvester D. Herlihy of Napanoch and Harold P. Stangel of Kerhonkson—were among three recently named to positions by the Channel Master Corp., Napanoch road in Ellenville. The company manufactures television antennas.

Herlihy, 23, who has been promoted as sales representative of the concern, will call on distributors in Dutchess, Ulster, Sullivan and Orange counties and in central Pennsylvania. He joined the company more than a year ago as laboratory technician. Stangel, who was born in Woodbourne, was named as personnel manager of the business. He is a graduate of Cornell University where he received a B.S. degree in industrial and labor relations. He now lives in Kerhonkson with his wife and daughters. (Channel Master Photos)

17 Persons Indicted

Los Angeles, May 25 (AP)—Accused of swindling hundreds of men and women of from $30 to $100 apiece, 17 persons were indicted by a federal grand jury after its investigation of television "talent" schools. Assistant U. S. Atty. Ray Kinnison said yesterday the defendants picked names from telephone books and advised people that TV talent scouts had spotted them. They are charged with mail fraud.

As Pegler Sees It

from my husband's insurance money my tent and many other expenses. There will be also the expenses of my operation. I view the future with awe. The representatives of the company who delivered the papers to me said the company would like to know my reaction."

This is the company, remember, which had the surly effort to refuse to buy insurance from Jimmy Roosevelt. To be sure, the company soon found itself "investigated" by the Department of Justice, at a cost of $4,200,000 to the stockholders and $1,500,000 to such taxpayers as the unsocial author of the text under contemplation here today. But it wasn't convicted of monopoly, so another prosecution was started which is still pending. The mills of the Party of Humanity grind slowly.

"I said, 'You can tell them: I will never pay. I will take the whole matter to Mr. Pegler.' Let me hasten to wash my hands of this sordid cause. I do not know this fascist-minded evangel of greed and civic anarchy. I do not endorse her reluctance to contribute to Mr. Truman's $50,000 tax-free raise and the cost of his barnstorming trip in the interests of the Democratic party. I don't want no trouble with no tax collectors."

"On March 18, I filed the income tax form. I will never pay the tax. I will go to jail before I will pay."

Certain narrow enemies of Mr. Truman have pointed out that he is, even sinner, than the late Roosevelt and Harold L. Ickes and will not spend $5 to say nothing of $50,000 a year extra and tax-free, on the expenses of his office. That is hearsay and bigotry. Nobody can prove that he didn't spend it all on official expenses. He doesn't have to prove that he did spend a nickel of it. On the other hand the same selfish agents of organized greed have inconsistently reproved him for extravagance. After all, frugality begins at home and if Mr. Truman saves the entire $50,000, plus the tax that he doesn't have to pay, he is setting the nation a fine example.

I shall try to learn the outcome of this rash defiance of our laws and report this offender's progress toward prison.

JOHN COMSTOCK

Dr. John Comstock has been named chairman of the local Salvation Army appeal for funds which begins on May 31 with a kick-off dinner at the Hotel Staynesant. Acting as honorary chairman will be Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk.

Dr. Comstock announced that the following committeemen would be working with him to raise the $6,000 quota: John H. Saxe, treasurer; Pratt Boice, special gifts; Howard R. St. John, insurance; Mortimer Eglander, real estate; Kirland F. Snyder, doctors; Dr. George C. Rfenbary, dentists; Howard C. St. John and Arthur A. Davis, Jr., lawyers; George N. Shivery, automotive; Harry Rigby, Jr., coal and fuel oil; George R. Mustaparta, Joseph P. Honig and Alex B. Shufeldt, manufacturing; John Porter Frank Cohen and Gilbert H. Elston, retail; and Roger H. Loughnan, publicity.

would cause a mass revolt against the Reds on mainland China in the fall. Wu, Princeton-educated former mayor of Shanghai, delivered his prediction in a broadcast. He declared the revolt would pave the way for Nationalist Chinese counter attacks in November and a full scale mainland assault next year. He charged Mao Tse-tung, Chinese Red leader, is ready to reduce the population of China from 450,000,000 to 150,000,000. He did not explain, but asserted "transport of food from Red China to Manchuria and Communist refusal to accept American famine relief prove this is true."

Do You Remember

by
SOPHIE MILLER

No doubt many readers have one or more of the "Picturesque Ulster" books. A Mrs. L. A. M. wrote me some time ago that she remembered when Mr. De Lasser, artist and author of the series, boarded at the "Corner" now known as Mt. Tremper. She wrote it was not a house and busy he drove but a team of black well matched horses and a two seater with a canopy and finge on top. She said she remembered that one of the horses name was Babe as it was painted over its stall. She said she has in her possession a photograph of a horse back of an Esopus creek scene which he tinted with water colors and signed. She also recalled one of his paintings "The Wall Street Entrance to the First Dutch Church" Mt. De Lasser she remembered had a son, named Harry, who married a local girl. So no doubt there are many of his works of art and perhaps other writings in local possession.

Speaking to Miss Mary A. Schaeffer, librarian, the other day, she mentioned how nice it would be if they had glass cases to display some of their historical items from time also more space for the convenience of their readers and perhaps a museum department for the showing of their many precious books. Well, if the Mystic Museum of Connecticut could raise $1,000 in popular subscription and put a free towing job for the "Dutchkerf" ferry to another state no doubt a small firm like several good glass display cases could easily be obtained. What do you think?

A 100 years ago there was a circulating library Association with some 600 volumes. T. P. Hubbard was the librarian back in 1857. Thomas Cornell and Walter Chase were two of its officers. There was also a Kingston Library Association with W. B. Finch as librarian at 5 Wall Street. It was open from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. except Sundays. It seems that there was one library downtown and one uptown.

Some time ago I received a letter from Mrs. Mildred W. Todd of Woodstock, wife of the Rev. Harry I. Todd, pastor of "The Dutch Reformed Church" which was established in 1799. She wrote that John P. Reading, who had a chicken factory around 1869 was her great grandfather. Her grandmother was born in Kingston lived in the old house which stood where the A. & P. Market now stands on North Front Street and was married in a house that stood where the Main Post Office now stands. She adds that Mr. and Mrs. John P. Reading came from England about 1828 according to a diary she has of her great grandmother.

A while back I was told according to Senate House Museum records that the House of Representatives appropriated $1,000 to have a life size portrait of Washington done by our John Vanderlyn. It was done with such perfection that it and beauty that it was immediately voted unanimously by the entire House to give Vanderlyn an additional $1,500. No doubt $2,500 in the early 1800's was a fortune so I presume the painting today is priceless. It is said it is still on exhibition in Washington. Jim Howard who has been with the Senate House some 12 years, says he never tires looking at Vanderlyn's paintings and that folks come there from all over the United States to see them.

New York, May 24 (AP)—The Public Service Commission received yesterday a survey purporting to show that the accident rate of Long Island Railroad trains has declined during the past two years so as to compare favorably with other railroads.

In a hearing which was precipitated by the Rockville Center collision last February 17, William Weyer, of East Orange, N. J., a consultant engineer hired by the P.S.C. submitted an exhibit covering accidents during the period 1940-49.

His report said that from a high in 1947 of 17.62 accidents per 1,000,000 units—a unit being the total of locomotive and motor train miles as shown in Interstate Commerce Commission accident bulletins—the Long Island's rate dropped to 7.98 per million units in 1949.

Weyer said that for eight roads "as comparable as possible with the Long Island," the average accident rate was 9.35 per million units in 1947 and 6.26 in 1949.

Weyer also submitted an exhibit purporting to show that the number of Long Island Railroad employees killed and injured per 1,000,000 man-hours had decreased since 1947 but was still higher in 1949 than the average for the eight comparable railroads.

Weyer also testified that the traffic density of six of nine stretches of single track in western Long Island does not warrant the installation of a second track.

At a previous session, Weyer had testified that five of the nine stretches did not require a second track. He said yesterday that the three stretches on which he has not expressed an opinion are from Great Neck to Port Washington, Garden City to Hempstead and from Island Park to Long Beach.

'Bicycle Thief' in Budapest
Budapest, Hungary (AP)—The Italian film "Bicycle Thief" is the first western film advertised here in a long time. A commentary describes it as a "deeply affecting film story about the present life of Italian workers."

Railroads of the United States carry an estimated 1,000,000 passengers and 2,500,000,000 tons of freight annually.

Proclamation

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk today issued the following proclamation.

PROCLAMATION

The prevalence of cerebral palsy has become a matter of grave concern to the people of our community and their government. The condition affects hundreds of our children and adults, many times more than are stricken with polio. Cerebral palsy brings suffering to these boys and girls and men and women and also imposes on their families emotional and financial burdens that are very difficult to bear.

Despite the popular impression to the contrary, those affected by cerebral palsy often are persons of high intelligence, and their physical disabilities do not necessarily affect their minds or spirit. This important truth should be widely understood and widely appreciated. It should be widely told in the educational campaign now being planned as a public duty.

Medical research into the causes and treatment of cerebral palsy recently has made great strides. But more effective methods of prevention and alleviation must be developed. There is great need for increased numbers of skilled medical specialists, psychiatrists, social workers, physiotherapists, occupational therapists, speech teachers, specially-trained educators and vocational counselors.

The Ulster County Cerebral Palsy Association is taking part in a national program for organized attack on this problem, a program which embraces the combined activities and resources of medical groups and lay associations.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Oscar V. Newkirk, Mayor of the City of Kingston do hereby proclaim the week of May 29, 1950 as CEREBRAL PALSY WEEK and I urge the people of the City of Kingston to cooperate with these organizations to the utmost.

OSCAR V. NEWKIRK
Mayor

Mayor Proclaims Cerebral Palsy Campaign

As various campaign committeemen look on, Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk affixes his signature to the proclamation starting the drive of the first annual cerebral palsy campaign in Ulster county. The drive will officially start May 25. Attending the signing in the mayor's office were, seated from left, Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, Judge John M. Cashin, Mayor Newkirk, national sponsors, and Dr. Henry L. Bibby, president of the Ulster County Cerebral Palsy Association. Standing in the same order are Conrad J. Heiselman, the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, national sponsors, Ray Howe, Jr., chairman of radio publicity, Sherrill Keyser, special activities, James Abernethy, general collection, and Christopher D. Morris, campaign committee. Other committeemen not present when the photo was taken are Monsignor Martin J. Drury, Dr. Saul Ritchie and Dr. Frank B. Seeley, national sponsors, and Louis R. Netter, chairman of the newspaper publicity committee. (Freeman Photo)

V.F.W. Receives State Certificate

In announcing that Joyce Schirick Post, 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars had received from the New York State Department a certificate for 100 percent in renewals in membership, Commander Edward Parnace urged all honorably discharged veterans of overseas service to join the organization.

"We have a fine post home," he remarked, "and will welcome overseas veterans so that they may avail themselves of the facilities — refreshment bar, shuffleboard, pool table, ping pong and television.

"There's a lasting comradeship, too, in a spirit of mutual help." Meetings are held at the post home on Delaware avenue, in the former Brincker mansion, on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month.

All ex-servicemen with overseas service has to do is present his honorable discharge in applying for membership.

Pray for New War

Boston, May 25 (P)—The people behind the Iron Curtain are praying for war between the United States and Russia to deliver them from oppression, according to Rep. Walter H. Judd (R-Minn.). Judd told the Northern Baptist Convention last night that in five eastern European countries he visited within the Soviet sphere he found the people have "such a hatred for their oppressors that they are praying for war." Judd returned this week from a world health organization meeting in Geneva. He did not disclose which countries he visited.

Ostrander Finds Interesting Item

John Ostrander, Hurley farmer, and ardent Grange member, whose spryness belies his 76 years, recently found an interesting piece in his mother's sewing box at his homestead.

Ostrander's family settled in Hurley in 1660 and the original deed to his property, he says, dates from 1731.

This active man, who still plows his fields and delivers his eggs in Kingston in his station wagon, got "quite a chuckle" from the following:

1828
Someone has dug up the records of the Lancaster, Ohio, school board back in 1828. In those records there is an account of a proposed debate as to whether railroads were practical. Permission was asked to hold the debate in the school house and the minutes of the school board meeting ran as follows: "You are welcome to use the school room to debate all proper questions in, but such things as railroads and telegraphs are impossibilities and rank infidelity. There is nothing in the word of God about them. If God had designed His intelligent creatures should travel at the frightful speed of 15 miles an hour by steam, He would have foretold it through His holy prophets. It is a device of Satan to lead immortal souls down to hell."

Huntington School Head To Speak at Center

At the commencement exercises of the Middletown Collegiate Center, scheduled in the high school auditorium there, Saturday, June 10, at 3:30 p. m., the principal speaker will be Carl V. Warren, superintendent of schools in Huntington. While Mr. Warren served in the same capacity at Middletown for 16 years, he was one of the prime movers in the effort which brought the collegiate center to Orange county. The center is completing its fourth year of instruction, having opened in January 1947 with 97 students. Other leaders in the field of education will be present also, and it is the hope of Dean Hugh Brotherton that all interested in the work of the center will attend the exercises.

Ulster Seal Sale

Was $25,207.70

The largest gross sales of Christmas Seals, for areas with a population of from 50,000 to 100,000, was reported by Ulster county according to a recent announcement at a New York city conference of various tuberculosis associations of the state.

Ulster sold was given as $25,207.70 a gain of eight per cent over the previous figure and the per capita donation amounted to 30 cents.

The county of Clermont was second with $14,500 and Saratoga third with $13,100.

Celebrates were awarded to representative of the associations by Mrs. Mary W. Anderson, director of the Christmas Seal Sales for the State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health of the State Charities Aid Association.

Representatives of the Ulster association at the conference were Edmund P. Roghland, vice president and Max Katherine M. Murphy, executive secretary.

Unions 'Give Protection'

Albany, N. Y., May 25 (AP)—State Senator Thomas C. Desmond said today that "in many respects" labor unions provided one of the best protections for older workers.

Seniority clauses in management-union contracts, he said in a statement, "are one of the greatest aids toward assuring the older worker of job security."

The Newburgh Republican is chairman of the joint legislative committee on problems of the aging.

Sparkman Doubts Federal Cash Is Valid for Thruway

Washington, May 24 (AP)—Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) says it's a question whether federal money should be provided for New York State's Thruway, if motorists from other states have to pay to use the cross-state highway.

Sparkman made the observation yesterday at a Senate Roads Subcommittee hearing.

Bertram D. Tallamy, New York commissioner of public works and chairman of the Thruway Authority, had told the committee the state was considering issuance of special license plates for Thruway users.

Tallamy said motorists from other states would be able to obtain visitor plates at reduced cost if they wished to use the Thruway.

He added that eventually exchange agreements might be worked out with other states having similar roads.

"I still wonder if the federal government would contribute funds to build a road which residents of other states will not be permitted to use, except at additional cost."

Reason Is Sought

Albany, N. Y., May 25 (AP)—The State Board of Regents will try to find out why half of the state's high school pupils quit school before finishing courses.

Francis E. Almstead, special consultant to the Regents Council on the Readjustment of High School Education, will conduct a survey this summer. He will ask people what they think is wrong with the high school curriculum and what they suggest be done about it.

Acting Commissioner Lewis A. Wilson of the State Education Department announced the survey yesterday. Wilson said the percentage of pupils completing secondary courses ranged from 30 to 90 per cent in various communities, but the state average was 50 per cent.

Bad Boy Program

Tonight over Station WKNY at 8 o'clock the pupils of John Bannoy's ninth year English class in Myron J. Michael School will present the play "The Story of a Bad Boy." Members of the cast are Diane Johnson, Linda Sulko, Leo Henderson, Rosemary Pillsworth, Caroline Temper, Doris Henninger, Phil Mandel, Jack Graney, Emma Jagger is the announcer.

Fewer Births Are Recorded in 1949

Albany, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—New York state had fewer births and more deaths in the first three months of this year than in the comparable 1949 period.

The births totalled 73,381, a drop of 1,507 from the total in the first three months last year. Deaths totalled 41,940, an increase of 2,030.

The State Health Department said today the birth rate of 18.9 per 1,000 population was the third highest for the first quarter in 25 years. But it was the third straight year a decline was reported. The death rate of 11.4 per 1,000 population was the second lowest record for the three months.

The department said "higher mortality in New York city" during March from diseases of the heart and kidney and from pneumonia caused the increase. Infant mortality reached a new low—26 deaths under one year of age per 1,000 live births. The maternal rate, seven deaths per 10,000 live and still births, also was a new low.

Other low records were recorded for tuberculosis, 30.1 deaths per 100,000 population, and syphilis, 5.1 per 100,000. The death rates for three dis-

290 Expected to Die in Holiday Crashes

Chicago, May 25 (AP)—The National Safety Council said today that some 290 persons have a very short time left to live. That many, it estimated, will be killed in Memorial Day week-end traffic.

The estimate is based on a four-day holiday period with very heavy traffic—nearly 30,000,000 automobiles on the move—throughout the nation. The estimate covers only victims who will experience accidents and die during the period—Saturday through Tuesday—not those who will die later from holiday accidents.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council, said the probable death list could be cut in half "if motorists met the holiday hazards with extra caution and courtesy."

Deaths increased slightly. They were: pneumonia, 40.1 per 100,000 population; cancer, 18.7 and diabetes 21.

Named for Discoverer
The ohm, measurement of resistance to electric current, was named for George Simon Ohm, who discovered that principle in 1826.

To Erect Modern Village

New York, May 25 (AP)—A modern "Chinese village" will replace the present slum-area Chinatown within the next five years, says State Commissioner of Housing Herman T. Stelman. He disclosed yesterday that plans for a new housing project in the lower east aron will give the 25,000 crumpled residents sunlit parks, cooped with parapets, enclosed, architecturally to preserve the Chinese influence. Also said Stelman, separate quarters will be set aside for bachelor Chinese men. He said providing such quarters is a problem since the bulk of Chinese tenants' residences are in the old tenements. The city is ready to spend $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 to the city for the project, the commissioner said, and also would provide an annual subsidy of $300,000 to $500,000 to keep it a low-cost project.

First woman to fly was Mme. Thibault, a French opera singer.

Official Report Is Given for County W.C.T.U. Institute

(Official Report)
The following is an official report of the Ulster County W.C.T.U. Institute held May 19 at the Plattekill Church.

The tap of the president's gavel by Mrs. Lillian Shultz opened the session. Every local president was on hand to tell how her unit had been working.

The following information was revealed during the opening session.

New Paltz provides material that instructions in the teachers college are eager to use in teaching health. Ulster Park and Port Jervis granted permission to use the Plattekill Church for the Institute. The Young Crusaders to the Sunday school pupils. Kingston has joined the intensive drive for new members. One of the goals set for the New County.

The program scheduled for departments whose directors told how the work done in each would lead toward total abstinence. In the afternoon the first speaker was to explain how unions can dispense with a number one state of directors and yet allow the union to engage in required activities. For instance, a girl education may be employed to put across an idea the peace department wishes to emphasize and literature may be a contributor to scientific temperance instruction.

There was music under the direction of Mrs. E. W. W. and the wife of the Plattekill pastor. The Institute voted the Battle Hymn of the W.C.T.U. Mrs. Franklin offered The Lord's Prayer. Chorus from the W.C.T.U. song book "Voice of Song" also were rendered.

The speech of the Rev. Marion Woods, pastor of the Plattekill Methodist Church, had been anticipated. His talk on how love could win justified Mrs. Carpenter's desire to have the institute date fall on a day that would find the pastor free to take part in the program. His definition of love as "concern for people" made it possible for him to show how such concern would seek to find and destroy the evil that was hurting people. He painted the strength of the evil in the $2,000,000,000 liquor bill in the power of the propaganda machine while he proved that those who love must suffer if necessary in order to save the victim. The Institute was not surprised when Mrs. Christner began her address with words that labeled the Rev. Mr. Woods' interpretation of the fourth chapter of First John as the best she had ever heard from a minister. Mrs. Christner packed practical advice about meeting the challenge of the New Crusade in sentences that commanded attention. She wanted her hearers to be alert to the requirements of new times and new trends. To recognize the turning point, and to be ready with methods adapted to the turn that is being taken. The prominence of the women who led the first Crusade gives a cue on the membership drive. Those women of high social position deserve a following of the best in the womanhood of today. The attitude toward the custom of social drinking must be changed. W.C.T.U. women must study facts and learn how to present them to those they would win so that no half truth of which the opposition has a list that can be proved so plausibly, need catch the unsuspecting. She told of her own experience in challenging half truths and of her success in consulting such statements.

Mrs. Shultz requested the secretary to read copies of the cablegrams that Ulster W.C.T.U. had sent to the state president, Miss Little and the national president, Miss Olson as they sailed to be in Hastings, England, for the world convention, June 3-10. Thus as the institute closed, the delegates had a glimpse of the world-wide activities of their W.C.T.U. and found their county meeting a link in a chain that reaches round the globe. The fight for sobriety and the control of narcotic drugs and a reign of peace is a global warfare.

Helmet Protection
Construction workers on the steel framework of a skyscraper wear metal helmets similar to those of the first World War to protect themselves from a possible masonry hot rivet or other injury.

Big Forest Fire Fought
Augusta, Me., May 25 (AP)—Fresh men with additional equipment tackled today the job of stopping a forest fire that has swept nearly 2,500 acres of wildland in Hancock and Penobscot counties. The blaze burning since Tuesday is the largest of more than 60 that have broken out in Maine since last Saturday. No buildings were burned and there are none in the path of the fire.

Lie added that he had a very interesting journey. Persons acquiring controlled residential housing accommodations previously registered under federal or state law, should notify their local rent office immediately, Charles C. Hoag, local rent administrator said today. If a landlord fails to file such a notice, orders affecting the housing accommodations will be issued in the name of the last known landlord of record. The present landlord will be bound by such orders.

When there has been a change of landlord, and no notice of the change has been filed, the new landlord must file a notice, on or before May 15, 1950 or within 15 days after the change, whichever is later. A special form (No. 44) is available at the local rent office. The original must be sworn to and must be filed with the local rent office.

Message From Siberia
Tokyo, May 25 (AP)—This Japanese war prisoner found a way to get a message out of Siberia. He floated it off in a bottle, and it arrived more than two years later. The message, dated March, 1948, and signed T. Takai: "I'm now in Siberia. The only thing I want to do before dying is to see the face of my wife and child."

Mail Bags Disappear

New York, May 25 (AP)—Eight full mail bags disappeared yesterday from a Brooklyn apartment house where they had been left.

under a new delivery system adopted as part of the Post Office Department's curbed service. Police and postal authorities started an immediate investigation. Uniformed patrolmen and postal inspectors combed a wide area in the vicinity of the apartment house at 334 Eastern Parkway, searching backyards, cellars, and rooms, but no trace of the bags was found.

Aviation News in County

On its maiden voyage, an $80,000, three-quarter ton "flying pick-up truck" landed at Kingston-Ulster Airport Monday afternoon. Pilot Albert DiBello, representing a New York newspaper, said that the all-metal DeHavilland "Beaver" affords ample room for seven people, 200 pounds of baggage and fuel for 500 miles. This Canadian-built plane, whose sister ships have met the rugged requirements of the Far North "Bush" pilots, boasts many inimitable features from short field take-offs to a built-in camera hole at the back of the baggage compartment.

Not Tough at All

"Why I ate nice thick steak at a swell hotel" reported Tom McInerney while being asked about a typical day in the life of a spraying pilot, away from home base. McInerney, who recently returned from Bedford, Mass., where he had been spraying mosquito larva in swamp areas near Boston, is enthusiastic about his first year in this type of work. Questioned about the early hours and ever present dangers while flying, he smiled and drawled, "The pay compensates for that."

A sprayer's day often begins before dawn, especially if the pilot must "mix his own," as Tom did, (the mixture being DDT and water) pump it into the plane and then fly to the designated area where begins the hectic work-out at tree-top level. This type of spraying, to be effective, must be done at altitudes of about 15 feet with winds not exceeding 10 miles per hour. "And near Boston winds are more apt to be at 50 miles per hour!" This is a statement which fellow pilots who had flown to the Bean Town agreed with readily.

Joseph Hastings of Park street, a student at Rochester Institute of Technology, landed at Kingston-Ulster Airport Sunday afternoon en route to Rochester Municipal Airport where he is employed by the Monroe Flying School.

Edward Keifus of Poughkeepsie, returning from a cross-country flight to North Adams, flew his Oliver into Kingston, and took Joan Jablonski for a "fun" ride, landing at Walden Airport.

Brooklyn Athlete Says He Was Hired To Encourage Bets

New York, May 25 (AP)—A star guard on the Brooklyn College basketball team testified at a gambling trial yesterday that he had been hired as an agent to get students to bet at the college.

The witness, Michael Di Tomasso, 19-year-old junior, has been named as a co-conspirator in the case, but not as a defendant.

He testified at the second book-making trial held in Brooklyn since a gambling and racketeering investigation opened there as a companion to a probe in Manhattan.

The defendants are Max Spiegel, 57, Peter Lombardi, 28, and Vincent Gigante, 21. They are accused in connection with the printing and distributing of basketball bet cards and accepting bets on basketball games. The indictment named them on 15 counts of conspiracy to violate the gambling laws.

Di Tomasso testified he was hired as an agent by Gigante. The student testified that last Dec. 9 he collected $24 in bets from other students, turned the bet cards and $18 over to Gigante, and kept $3 as his "25 per cent commission."

Was First Witness

Di Tomasso, a Manhattan resident, was the first prosecution witness at the trial in General Sessions Court.

The youth, obviously nervous, said his commission never was more than $12 a week.

Cross-examination of Di Tomasso was scheduled for today.

A witness who has appeared several times before a special Brooklyn grand jury investigating gambling and other racketeering was sentenced yesterday to 210 days in jail and fined $1,750 for failing to answer questions.

He is James Amarante, 38, an ex-convict. His sentence was on seven contempt charges. After sentencing, he was informed he also had been indicted on charges of criminal contempt and perjury.

In the twin-probe in Manhattan, two more of multi-million dollar bookie Frank Erickson's alleged aids showed up at the district attorney's office yesterday for questioning.

They identified themselves as Thomas R. Smith, 45, of Malverne, N. Y., and Sol Singer, 59, of Manhattan. After questioning, they were ordered to return tomorrow.

Free Instruction Courses

Kingston's Civil Air Patrol will sponsor several aeronautical instruction courses to be held at the Kingston-Ulster Airport Tuesday through Friday evenings 7 to 9 o'clock. Subjects are listed as follows: Aircraft Mechanics, Tuesday; Navigation, Wednesday; Airplane Engines, Thursday; Instruments, Friday. These are free courses and anyone interested is invited.

Eastern Airlines' Captain Johnny Miller landed his Stinson

Gull-Wing at New Paltz Airport. Ross Reesmer, Port Ewen, and Gilbert Krom of Kingston were among the local fliers from New Paltz Airport Sunday.

Charles Cooper of Woodstock and private ticket is just a week old. Edward Brown of Kingston flew Cooper's Stinson to New Hackensack Airport Sunday. Cooper also later gave Tom McInerney, C.A.P. Cadet, his first plane ride.

Planes now being repaired and re-licensed at Kingston-Ulster Airport are owned by Harry Ford of Anderson Acres, Ralph Swadlow, Middletown, and the Windham C.A.P.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE
New York (AP)—After helping 60,000 newlywed couples arrange their honeymoons, Betty White thought she had met every problem that could arise.
And then a young couple strolled in and said:
"We want to take a dog on our honeymoon—can you fix that?"
"Why not leave him behind?" urged Miss White.
"No, I've never been anywhere without my dog—and I'm not going to start now," said the bridegroom. "Besides he'd be lonely."

His bride said, yes, she wanted the dog to go along, too. So Miss White found them a resort where they could smooch with a pooch in tow.
In fact, this is one of the less zany experiences she has had in a 15-year career as a honeymoon consultant. One of her recurring tasks is to persuade mothers-in-law not to try to accompany the bride company on their honeymoon. Somehow fathers-in-law don't seem to want to.
"I don't approve of three on a honeymoon," said Miss White, "but sometimes it is necessary. Usually, in such cases, it's the bride's mother—if she's old or infirm."

Another Type Problem
A problem of another type was the 53-year-old woman preparing to marry a 56-year-old man. Objecting to paying a $25 deposit for her hotel reservation, the dear old bride-to-be said practically:
"The wedding isn't for six weeks, and I may not live that long."

She finally put up the $25 on being assured it would be paid her heirs if anything went wrong.
"Later she wrote me she had had a very enjoyable honeymoon—even sent me a poem she had written," smiled Miss White.
She says that brides, rather than bridegrooms, generally select the honeymoon site today. And they don't want a quiet place where they can be alone. They prefer a resort where they can meet other people their age—a resort with recreational facilities, such as dancing, swimming, golf and tennis.

"Above all, they don't want to be tagged as honeymooners, and stared at by the rocking chair brigade," she said.

Miss White, a slender, honey-haired woman, understands this feeling. She went on a honeymoon herself last year.

"I changed my mind three times about where to go," she recalled. "I didn't want to go where anyone would know who I was."

Gives Some Pointers
Over the years she has figured out a few pointers to help newlyweds have a honeymoon that is sensible as well as romantic:
"1. Brush the rice out of your hair before you start."
"2. Don't take too much luggage. Often the bride would like to bring along her entire trousseau."
"3. Don't over-tip. Inexpensive young couples often do this because they are afraid to be thought cheap."
"4. Start to co-operate on the honeymoon. It's a good time to begin overlooking each other's petty faults."
"5. Take a couple of days at the end of the honeymoon to plan your future. You can do this better together away from friends and parents."
"6. Save enough to buy a small present for the bride. She'll treasure it all her life as a honeymoon memento."

I asked Miss White what had been the most unusual experience in her work as honeymoon con-

Lower Prices Forecast For May Milk Output

New York, May 24 (AP)—A uniform price of $3.27 per hundredweight (about 47 quarts) is forecast for dairy farmers for May milk deliveries to pool-approved plants in the six-state New York milkshed.
The predicted producer butterfat differential for May is 5.8 cents for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 per cent standard.

The figures were released last night by A. J. Pollard, acting market administrator.

Last month, the uniform price was $3.43.

The May forecast was based on an estimated production of 761,000,000 pounds for the month. This is an average of about 488 pounds daily by each of the estimated 50,500 producers.

Pollard announced that reports by handlers must be in the administrators' hands not later than June 10. The actual uniform price and butterfat differential for May will be announced by June 14. Payments by handlers to producers must be made by June 25.

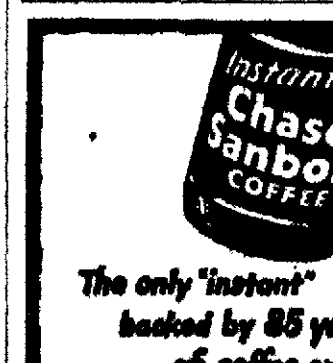

sultant.

"Well," she hesitated, "there was the time a pair of midgits came in and asked if there were any half-priced honeymoons for people their size."

Dies of Heart Attack

New York, May 25 (AP)—Joseph Harris, 60, of 140 Oakwood avenue, Merrick, N. Y., collapsed and died apparently of a heart attack last night on the upper level of the Independent Subway station at 53rd street. Leo Kaufman, a co-worker of Harris who was with him in the station, made the identification. He said Harris was manager of a luggage store at 53rd street and Fifth avenue and was going home when he collapsed.

SO GOOD you get the cleanest possible wash with the least possible work!

Years of research and experimenting in Procter & Gamble's laboratories led to the discovery of the newest clothes-washing marvel—CHEER.

CHEER was tested and tested—under all kinds of washing conditions. And the job it did was SO GOOD it surpassed the highest expectations of its makers.

Now CHEER is ready for you! And Procter & Gamble promises that it will give you the cleanest possible wash with the least possible work.

SO GOOD it washes clothes cleaner in ONE wash than any soap will in TWO!

It's true! Laboratory tests prove that CHEER is so good it gets clothes cleaner in a single wash than any soap you ever used will in 2 washings!

SO GOOD you can get a bright, clean wash even WITHOUT RINSING!

It's true! CHEER can give you a sweet, clean wash even without rinsing. Because CHEER holds dirt. So, when you wring out the suds—away goes the dirt.

You get the cleanest possible wash any "no rinse" suds can offer!

But if you do rinse, CHEER's your best bet for a cleaner wash than you'll get with any soap—any other type of washing product.

SO GOOD you get a snowy-white wash with NO BLEACHING! NO BLUING!

Without bleaching, without bluing—without help from anything—CHEER washes your white things clean as fresh snow. Your colored things look bright as new paint. Yet for all its power, CHEER is kind to hands, safe for washable colors.

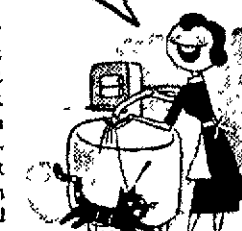

SO GOOD you get a film-free wash even IN HARDEST WATER!

CHEER suds come up thick and fast in water so hard the best soaps known give up the ghost. Leaves no sticky scum—in fact, CHEER removes the dulling film left on clothes by soap. You never need a water softener with CHEER!

SO GOOD you get a spanking-clean wash even WHEN HOT WATER RUNS LOW!

The hotter the water, the better the wash. But when the hot water runs low, CHEER won't let you down. Sturdy CHEER suds stand right up and go on fighting dirt and grease. Whatever the temperature, CHEER will give you a cleaner wash than any soap in the world will at the same temperature.

Try cheer once...and you'll cheer forever!

Old Dutch Tulip Fair Will Be Repeated Friday and Saturday With Full Program

The Old Dutch Tulip Fair held last Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be repeated this Friday and Saturday because so much of the entertainment and so many special features, such as the beautiful child contest, could not be held due to the inclement weather. The fair grounds on the corner of Pearl and Fair streets will open on Friday at 12 noon. The following booths and persons in charge have been listed for the two days:

Refreshment: The Choir Mothers. Special plate lunches will be served each day. Friday tuna fish and turkey salads will be served and Saturday boiled ham, baked beans and coleslaw will be on the menu. In case of rain the lunches will be served upstairs in the church house.

Clothing: Mrs. George Oberly.

Articles consist mostly of children's clothes and have been made by the women of the church.

Rummage: Mrs. Bruce Van Kleeck. This sale is held in the barn on the fair grounds and has such articles as second-hand clothing and household articles.

Aprons: Mrs. William Frey. These are all hand-made aprons made and contributed by members and friends of the church.

Toys: Mrs. Edward DeWitt. This booth, following the Dutch tradition, is called the St. Nicholas Shop. In it are many unusual and amusing games and toys for children of all ages.

Jewelry: Mrs. Ellis Griffith. Jewelry new and old will be for sale in this shop.

Fancy Work: Mrs. Ralph Halbert. Baby's things, holders, towels, dollies and many other articles will be on this booth.

The Pantry Shelf: Mrs. Hiram Whitney. Homemade pies, cakes, and rolls will be for sale at this booth. Also imported Dutch Gouda and Edam cheeses, imported Dutch cocoa and chocolate pudding can be purchased here.

The Candy Counter will feature such things as old fashioned Dutch baba's, and fudemaker's hoepjes, the favorite candy of Dutch children. Here too you can purchase milk chocolate bars imported from Holland and buy boxes of tulip chocolates.

Friday at 8 p. m. Roger Baer's 20-piece Accordion Ensemble will present an unusual concert, and the beautiful child contest will be held Saturday afternoon.

In case of rain all of the activities will be transferred to the church house. The public is invited.

About 20,000,000 persons live in the Ohio Valley.

The bride was graduated from Saugerties High School and the Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing. She is a member of the hospital staff.

The groom was graduated from Kingston High School and served three years in the army during the war.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white nylon tulle over satin, with a tunic effect of peau d'ange lace, off the shoulder neckline shadowed in tulle, and a full train. Her veil of nylon and peau d'ange lace fell from a lace crown, and she carried a prayerbook with a white orchid and a shower of sweet peas.

Mary Sickler of Saugerties, maid of honor, wore white nylon tulle embroidered with yellow, with a yellow underskirt, and a yellow horse hair picture hat. She carried yellow carnations.

Bridesmaids were Maude Mills of Saugerties, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Robert Hunt of Kingston, who wore Nile green and pink, respectively, in styles similar to that of the maid of honor, and carried green and pink carnations.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

TABLE SETTING
Someone asks about American table setting: "Where I was born abroad proper table setting when there was no one to wait on the table, included the dessert silver along with the rest. It was put horizontally above the plate. I understand the American practice is the same under similar conditions, but the handle of both fork and spoon are together. However, we laid the two pieces for dessert with the fork handle pointing left and the spoon handle right, the way each is picked up. A friend tells me this would be most curious here in America and probably improper. Doesn't it seem sensible to you?"

You are correct. They are placed so that the handles are picked up naturally—the fork in the left hand, the knife (or spoon) in the right.

Remarrying Same Husband
Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine has been divorced six years and is now remarrying her ex-husband. If she had been marrying somebody else we friends would have given her a shower and wedding presents. But we wondered whether there was any sense to it when the groom is her former husband?

Answer: I should think her friends would be more excited and pleased about this remarriage than if she were marrying another man. However, in any case, they do exactly as they wish about giving parties and gifts a second time. Usually, they are less inclined to—especially if they did all these things for her the first time.

High Tea
Dear Mrs. Post: What in the world is high tea? Somebody mentioned it the other day and I didn't want to show my ignorance so kept quiet. I am curious.

Answer: High tea is a very substantial evening meal typical of the South rather than elsewhere. If often includes fried or stewed oysters, fried chicken, creamed potatoes, another vegetable, hot breads, coffee, tea and chocolate as beverages and waffles for dessert.

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. What silver is served with a baked apple? Is just one of 20 everyday questions about table service which she answers in her helpful book, No. 504, "Table Setting." John Schoonmaker Thanks Auxiliary For Hospital Work

John D. Schoonmaker, president of the board of trustees of the Kingston Hospital, personally thanked the hospital auxiliary for its work in redecorating and refurnishing hospital rooms, at the auxiliary meeting Tuesday in the library of the laboratory.

Twenty-four members were present. The decorating committee reported that one wing on the second floor as well as the room in memory of Mrs. Howells was now completed.

The color schemes of these rooms are so beautiful and are meeting with such hearty appreciation that people are beginning to ask for rooms of some particular color which pleases them," it was reported.

The work of installing the new equipment in the kitchen was reported to be progressing rapidly, and the group voted to continue redecorating and refurnishing the remaining rooms on the second floor.

Mrs. Edward Remmert, Mrs. N. LeVan Haver, and Mrs. Frank Johnson were appointed as members of a nominating committee. A special meeting of the auxiliary will be held Wednesday, June 28, and a large attendance is requested. The auxiliary asked its members and friends please to notice that the meeting will not be on the final Tuesday, as is the usual procedure, but the final Wednesday of the month.

Israel's Pioneers Like Those of U. S., Service Guild Hears

The spirit and pride of the people building Israel is similar to the spirit of the pioneers who came to America aboard the Mayflower, Mrs. Nathaniel Gross told the May meeting of the St. James Wesleyan Service Guild Tuesday.

Mrs. Gross, who visited Israel last year, described her impressions of the new nation being built, told of the contrasts between new and old Palestine, and said she had visited a church where Jews are supposed to have worshipped.

A film was shown depicting the struggle of a young boy who had been in a Nazi concentration camp, without friends or family, to overcome fear and distrust and to become one of the leaders of the new country.

Rossellini, Actress Married by Proxy

Rome, May 25 (AP)—Roberto Rossellini and Ingrid Bergman, whose widely publicized romance was climaxed last February by the birth of a son, were married by proxy yesterday in Juarez, Mexico.

The nuptials in absentia broke through legal delays that had blocked the couple's path in the United States, Sweden and Italy since February, when Miss Bergman quit her film career to bear the Italian director's son.

The ceremony was performed at 12 noon by Judge Raul Orozco in Juarez, just across the Rio Grande from El Paso. The judge said Juarez Attorney Javier Alvarez signed the register for Rossellini and Arturo Gomez Trevino, another Juarez lawyer, signed for Miss Bergman.

Two witnesses were present—Marcello Girosi, a New York attorney for Rossellini, and William A. Cooke, El Paso attorney.

Rossellini announced the marriage in Rome through a spokesman and declared this is not bigamy. Miss Bergman is now legally Mrs. Rossellini.

The much-heralded romance of the until-then U. S. movie queen and the Italian director blossomed while Rossellini and Miss Bergman were filming the movie "Stromboli" on a volcanic island in the Mediterranean. After she finished her role in that picture, Ingrid announced she was through with films.

Rossellini said the marriage would be registered officially in Rome. He said it would be recognized here and his attorneys had advised him it also would be recognized in Miss Bergman's native Sweden.

In the opinion of one person at least the marriage has no legal status. He is Dr. Peter Lindstrom, Los Angeles brain surgeon, from whom Miss Bergman obtained a Mexican divorce on February 10—a week after the birth of her baby.

In Hollywood a spokesman for Lindstrom said the proxy marriage will make no difference in the physician's plans to divorce Miss Bergman in the California courts.

Colonials Increase Lead to Full Game With 7-2 Win Over Torrington

Navratil Excels With Four-Hitter

The Colonials found that fifth starting pitcher who will be so vital when the two-night double-header season rolls around in the Colonial League.

He'd been hanging around for several days shackled by a maze of organized baseball red tape. But last night Manager Emil Gall took right hander Frank Navratil out of the show and he proved to be a glittering piece of pitching merchandise.

Flashing beautiful side arm stuff, Navratil overcame a bumpy first inning to four-hit the voracious Torrington Braves into submission, 7 to 2, before 414 of the faithful.

Both of the runs charged against the cool, poised side-wheeler were unearned and directly attributable to infield bobbles.

Kingston's victory last night gives the local charges a full going lead over the second place Waterbury Tigers who were idle. Rained washed out the Poughkeepsie-Waterbury clash while Bristol and Bridgeport were not scheduled to play.

The Colonials open a long road trip tonight in Bristol and will be away from the municipal stadium until they meet the Poughkeepsie Chiefs on Memorial Day afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the up-town ball park.

Retires 15 in Row

Starting with one out in the first inning, Navratil retired 15 batters in succession. He walked four, struck out two and for the most part had the Braves popping up innocently to the infield and outfield.

Kingston converted seven hits off Frank Piccerelli, a saved-off right hander into seven runs, but four of them were outright gifts. Signor Piccerelli had a frustrating habit of throwing the ball all over the place—and generally to the wrong base on bunt plays.

Healey's single to left, a bobble by Johnny Walker and Bob Nather's slash into the hole sent Torrington ahead 1-0 in the first. Navratil settled down and didn't yield another tally until Johnny Battaglia scored for the visitors when Jerry Murray tossed a DP ball into left field.

By virtue of singles by Harvey Porter and Chico Gerard, a lead throw by the catcher, two walks and a hit batsman the Colonials were romping 3-1 at the end of the first.

Piccerelli really piled woe upon himself in the fifth. Porter and Gerard opened with singles. The Torrington hurler picked up Frank Merola's bunt and in attempting to head Porter off at third base threw the ball almost out the park. Porter and Gerard scored and Merola wound up on third. Murray's infield out scored Merola.

Two Fielding Gems
Rudy Karson singled behind Shortstop Battaglia's two-base error on Charlie Aspromonte for the seventh Colonial marker in the eighth inning.

Navratil was saved some worry by two glittering plays in sixth. He walked Ed Musial, who doesn't hit like his brother Stan, and Rudy Karson picked him off first base with a rifle toss to Joe Sposa. Sal Stampiglio also stroled but was forced at second on a sensational stop by Walther of Bob Mather's terrific shot.

The scorching smash took one low skid but Walther collared it. The momentum of the ball almost spun the Colonial infielder into left field but he stayed with it and from an awkward angle tossed to Porter for the force on Stampiglio. Mather dashed across first base and shrugged his shoulders in disbelief.

Harvey Porter continued to boost his batting-average with a couple of singles in four trips, while Chico Gerard and Rudy Karson each had two singles. Neither side had an extra base hit.

Carnera's Opponent on Saturday

A 6-foot, 3-inch, 335-pound giant from the hills near Memphis, Tennessee, Slim Zimbleman, will test Primo Carnera, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, in a professional wrestling exhibition Saturday, May 27, at the municipal auditorium.

Zimbleman will be making his first eastern appearance for the Bill Johnston, Jr., wrestling syndicate.

Hero of the recent Madison Square Garden show, Carnera is in great shape and is pressing to become the first athlete to win both the heavyweight boxing and wrestling crowns. Zimbleman has compiled a great record in southern and Pacific Coast rings.

Rebel Russell, 236-pound Boston villain, who stole the show from Argentine Rocca and Golden Superman last week, goes against Hardy Krenshaw, the Czech giant. Hans Hermann, 6-foot, 4-inch, 250-pound Golden Boy from Hanover, Germany, tangles with Fred Scholco of St. Louis in a 30-minute test. Walter Kaperoff of New Haven and Jesse James, of Washington, are paired in the 30-minute curtain raiser.

Major League Roundup

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Everything happens in Brooklyn! It's corny but it's true.

Remember the day three men wound up on third base? The fly balls that bounced off Babe Herman's head? The sparrow that flew out of Casey Stengel's hat?

Three on Third
The 1950 Dodgers last night added the novelty of a three-man race from third base to home plate that wound up an "interference" double play by the Chicago Cubs. Sound complicated? Well, it is.

Jackie Robinson was on third base and Gil Hodges on second in the eighth inning. Eddie Meksis hit a ball to third base. That set it up.

The third baseman threw to the plate and Catcher Mickey Owen chased Robinson back to third.

When Bobby arrived he found Hodges also standing on the bag. Owen touched both men and the umpire ruled Hodges out.

Then Meksis headed for second base and Owen threw to Wayne Terwilliger. Although he had been ruled out, Hodges started for the plate in a three-man race with Robinson and Owen.

Down the stretch they came virtually shoulder to shoulder. Robinson first, Hodges second and Owen third. But the finish was not official. An objection was lodged. The relay from Terwilliger was taken by First Baseman Phil Carravetta, precluding home plate. He tagged Robinson sliding across the rubber. Plate Umpire Art Gore ruled Robinson out because Hodges interfered.

The official scoring was a double-play—third baseman Bob Ramazotti to Owen to Terwilliger to Carravetta. Owen got the putout at third and Carravetta the one at home.

Bankhead Goes Route
Oh yes, the score. Brooklyn won, with rookie pitcher Dan Bankhead going the route for the first time. It was the Negro right-hander's fourth straight victory, breaking a five-game win by the Cubs' Bob Rush. Duke Snider, George Shuba and Roy Campanella smashed homers off Rush, who hadn't thrown a grounder ball in all his previous games. Andy Palko ruined Bankhead's shutout with a homer.

Those Philadelphia Phils stuck right on the Dodgers' heels by blasting six runs in the eighth inning for a 6-3 edge over Pittsburgh. Dick Sisler's three-run homer off Murry Dickson started the big uprising.

Rookie Cloyd Boyer pitched fine relief ball for the St. Louis Cardinals after lefty Max Lanier had to leave the game due to a pain in his shoulder. The Lanier-Boyer team shut out the New York Giants, 2-0, with four hits. Monte Kennedy pitched a five-hitter, but hits by Red Schoendienst and Stan Musial and a steal of home by Stan cost him the game.

Spain Halts Reds
Warren Spahn turned in his best effort of the season, a three-hitter for Boston against Cincinnati, 4-1. The Braves got to Evill Blackwell for six hits and all four runs before he gave way to Frank Smith.

Rain washed out the "big game" in the American, the first of the New York Yankee-Detroit Tigers series, but the Boston Red Sox clung to an early lead to down the St. Louis Browns, 7-5, for Mel Parnell's fifth victory. Two triples by Al Zarilla and doubles by Walt Dropo, Billy Goodman and Ted Williams led the 10-hit attack.

Gene Burden, the 1948 World Series hero but a flop ever since, bounced back with a fine relief job for Cleveland against Washington. Replacing Early Wynn in the second, Burden allowed only four hits in 7 1/2 innings for a 5-4 decision over Joe Hayes.

The Chicago White Sox came from behind to topple Philadelphia, 10-7, with five runs in the eighth.

Pales Crash 2864
Columbus, O., May 25 (AP)—The Regal Pales of Los Angeles hit 2864 in the team division of the American Bowling Congress tournament last night—just short of moving into a spot among the leaders in that event. The Regals made the best team score of the evening, however, with Max Cardenas popping 623. Three other teams also fell short of moving into the top 10. There were no changes yesterday among the leaders of the various events.

Davenport Surrenders Half Point; Joins Randall in K.H.S. "Doghouse"

Maroon Linkmen Rout Beacon High

Dick Davenport is the "black sheep" in the Kingston High School golf family today.

The personable young high school swing committed the unpardonable sin of dropping a half point to his opponent, Bob Fitzpatrick, of Beacon High, Tuesday in a DUSO Golf League match at Wiltwyck links.

And what put Dick well into the doghouse with the No. 1 ace, Leon Randall, was the fact that he blew a 2-foot putt on the 18th green.

Randall had earned the black sheep mantle last Saturday when Bill Neely, of Middletown, halved his match at 1 1/2 to 1 1/2.

The two points surrendered by Randall and Davenport in the last two matches are the only point losses suffered by Kingston in three years of DUSO competition.

Coach Russ Cunningham's linksmen (trounced Beacon, 1 1/2 to 1, despite Davenport's faux pas to remain undefeated.

Johnny Gleason, the young man with the perfectly grooved swing, again led the squad with a 76 on

K.H.S. Tennis Squad Scores First Victory Over Newburgh in 16 Years

Carpouzis Trounces Academy's No. 1 Ace

By CHARLES TIANO
(Freeman Sports Editor)

When Newburgh Free Academy defeated Kingston High for the first time in 26 years in basketball, there was much ado about the sports inside in the Newburgh press.

"No" Gill golfers, devoted a couple million words, with pictures, two rallies and seven testimonials in an effort to impress upon the Newburgh citizenry the magnitude of the colossal accomplishment of the Goldback basketballers.

A slight exaggeration, perhaps, but an indication of the trend of Gill's typewriter machinations.

Since tennis is not recognized as a major sport in the DUSO League, Kingston High's slightly stunning 5-0 whitewash of the once invincible N.F.A. racket wielders on Tuesday we cannot devote that much space to the incredible achievement of Coach Theron Culver's boys.

And George Carpouzis, in particular.

The overall Masonic margin of victory in two dual matches was an astonishing 10-1.

It Never Happened

When N.F.A. tipped Kingston in basketball, the historians went scurrying into the archives trying to find out when it had happened before. It was generally agreed that no such N.F.A. triumph had graced the record books in 26 years.

Like the governor of North Carolina said to the chief executive of South Carolina, that was an awful long time between drinks.

But, there is no necessity for getting the sports historians aggravated about this deal.

It just never happened before in a dual meet between K.H.S. and N.F.A. Down through the years, the Goldbacks have fared as consistently in tennis as we routed them in basketball.

Now, let us examine the historic Kingston victories.

Carpouzis Big Star

Outstanding, of course was George Carpouzis' thrilling three-set triumph over Myron Hershberg, the No. 1 Academician who hadn't lost a match in three years.

Carpouzis dropped the first set, 5-7, but rallied to take the next two and the match, 6-4, 6-2. That was the back breaker.

Jay Rider, Wall Smith and Dick Nash joined into the spirit of the day with straight set victories in the secondary duels.

Rider polished off Bill Mackson, 6-1, 6-2; Smith outlasted O'Donovan 6-3, 8-4; and Nash trimmed Hollub, 6-2 and 6-1. Smith and Nash teamed in the doubles to crush O'Donovan and Hollub 7-5, 6-0.

Unfinished Business

There still remained some unfinished business from a previous match that was halted by rain in Kingston with the Maroon leading 3 to 1.

Coasts to Victory

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 25 (AP)—Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, N. C. coasted to a 6 and 5 victory over Britain's Harry G. Bentley in the fifth round of the British Amateur golf tournament today.

of the Goldbacks in a singles engagement, stumbled momentarily to lose the first set, 4-6, and then came on to nail down the match, 7-5, 6-2.

Only the piece de resistance remained—the No. 1 doubles encounter between Carpouzis and Rider of Kingston and Hershberg and Mackson of N.F.A.

It was late in the day both sides were exhausted, and it was just a case of which team would drop first. Happily for this story and the record books the Newburgh tandem conked out in the third set.

Hershberg and Mackson copped the first set, 7-5, but the Maroon duo rallied to outlast their opponents, 12-10 in a punishing middle set. The Newburgher cracked under the strain and Carpouzis and Rider won a love set, 6-0.

Add them all up and they make a 10-1 margin for Kingston. The first time it has happened in 26 years.

Tomson Fans 11 as Capitals Nip Wiltwycks in City League, 2-1

Throwing Error Hurts Albany, Losing Hurler

Hookie Tomson bested Joe Albany in a sweet pitcher's duel Wednesday night at the Athletic Field as the Old Capital Motors scored a 2 to 1 squeaker victory over Wiltwyck Motors.

Both hurlers were stingy with base hits as only six hits were manufactured in the entire game, three coming for each squad.

However, Tomson backed up his three-hit hurling with 11 strikeouts and only three walks. Albany issued four free tickets.

After two scoreless innings, The Motorsmen broke the deadlock and pushed over a run in the top of the third on Munson's single to left, a stolen base and Albany's one-baser to center.

The Capitals quickly evened the count in their half of the frame when Jackson worked Albany for one of his four walks, plied second and rode home on Decker's long double to right.

Error Hurts Albany

Albany might have escaped without any score in the fourth but a costly throwing error by Tietelbaum gave the Capitals what proved to be the deciding run.

Albany's own wildness got him on the hook to start things in the fourth when he walked Barringer, the Old Capital first sacker. Barringer stole second and when Tietelbaum threw badly into center trying to nab the runner, Barringer kept on going and landed on third Felipe's hoist to Munson in center brought in Barringer with the big run.

Honeberry, Munson and Albany collected bingles off Tomson while Holmgren, Felipe and Decker managed to hit the hit column for the winners.

As a result of the victory, Old Capitals moved into a three-way tie for first place with Jones Dairy and Chez Emile.

Tonight's Game

Weather permitting, Jones Dairy will try to make it two in a row by meeting the Colonial Merchants. Tommy Fisher is slated to start for the Dairymen while Bob Rybinaker will probably get the call for the Merchants.

Takes Western Trot

Arcadia, Calif., May 25 (AP)—Lord Steward, trotting the mile in 2:05 2/5, whipped a field of 12 sophomores yesterday to win the $10,000 Western Trot at Santa Anita. He paid $3.30, $2.30 and $2.30. Nibble Spencer was second, Kimberly Maid third. The Western Harness Racing Association wrote up a new low pay-off record for the meeting when Adlig, coupled with Nelly Abbeduto, returned but $3.70. The all time W.H.R.A. low is $4.10 which Scotch Princess and Michal paid last year at Hollywood Park.
